Peel Concert a Disaster
The Concert
The Background

by Susan Schulitz

Last Thursday, March 2, 1972 a concert was sponsored by Student Government featuring David Peel and the Lower East Side. The concert was to be held from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. However, a lot of things have to be arranged before a concert can be put on. It seems that the people involved in setting up the concert, getting the show on the road, and doing anything about David Peel had been asked to come at 11:30 a.m. to perform at 12:30 p.m. This was pretty good timing, however, concerning the rest of his group did not materialize. This was not the only source of confusion. We insist give Peel a firm time and date. The maintenance department in Student Center also had their hand in the arrangement. The same day, it was announced that Peel did not start setting up until 11:45 a.m. and by 12:00 it was stated that the show would be cancelled. Peel engaged himself in a monologue verbally destroying the Baruch administration interpreted with his thoughts about drugs and revolution. His rantings about Baruch, however, were not entirely original. The Apple Records group was promised the use of certain Student Center equipment, for which reason they did not bring their own PA system. However, the speakers and microphones were supplied to be installed. Furthermore, the equipment was not delivered to the Student Center until after Peel’s scheduled check should have been made at least one hour before the start of the show. On June 2, 1972

Even though it was not quite what was expected of them, David Peel and the Lower East Side did put on a show - a more-or-less one man show.

His rantings about Baruch, however, were not entirely original. The Apple Records group was promised the use of certain Student Center equipment, for which reason they did not bring their own PA system. On the 2nd of March the BARUCH COLLEGE BUDGET CRISIS MOBILIZATION COMMITTEE met to discuss the action that Baruch will take to inform the students of the BUDGET CRISIS that CUNY is still facing. The attendance was surprisingly light which was probably due to the fact that most of the student members of the committee don’t give a damn about what is going to happen. The meeting was chaired by William R. Noonan, Dean of the faculty, also along with President Wingfield, had gone to Albany this past week to just peek BARUCH Dean Montapart spoke of coming back with four improvements from Albany and they are.

1. The effect by the bureaucrats that forces to that are on students, parents etc.

There was more said about point four and it was said that “What has to be done has to be done.” Put more pressure on the legislators than they are getting now, which is minute amount. Some Legislators haven’t been pressured at all.

The Board of Higher Education, which rules CUNY, has given some alternatives if they don’t get the money that they are asking for. They are as follows:

1. Rescind appointments and hiring.

2. To put a limit on credits taken by students per semester.

3. If there is a limit on credits, it would take 5-6 years to earn a degree that now takes 4 years.

There was then a discussion on the preparations for Wednesday’s day of classes discussion with student leaders on the budget crisis. The committee was informed that there are very few student leaders who volunteered to participate in the classroom talks Wednesday. Wednesday will be a big waste of time unless someone cares.

Students think that only tuition matters but it doesn’t. Dean of Administration, Maurice Broadwell, stated that the officers of the staff will be set off of a job on April 15th when their contracts run out and that is one reason they are being contract.

In effort to help maintain those job, this meeting was held to talk about the situation. They then discussed the issues and the board then adjourned.

AMA Holds Career Conference

American Marketing Association held an admission and attendance conference at the St. Peter’s Hospital on Thursday, March 2, 1972. The meeting was addressed by President Clyde Wingfield, and other members of the administration, the faculty, administration, and representatives from the marketing. The meeting was attended by many young professionals in the field of marketing.

Enrollment and Admissions of the CUNY System has been discussed in detail at a recent conference. The numbers of students in the system has been declining, and it is feared that the foundation of this college system will fall in the near future. The system is currently struggling with the problem of providing education to a large number of students. The decrease in enrollment has led to a decrease in funding for the system, making it difficult to continue providing quality education. The situation is dire, and urgent action is needed to address the problem.
BCCC: What's Happening?

by EVENL JACKSON

The BCCC had its third meeting of the academic year on Thursday afternoon. To the usual committee members, three new members were added. Mr. Adams, who worked diligiently in his previous terms, Mr. Parket, and Professor Storer, who has devoted his time and skills to the BCCC, joined the committee. The three new members to the committee, who had been appointed by the student relations department, were of the opinion that the BCCC was in need of new ideas and directions to help it run smoothly.

The meeting continued after a short break with the recital of the three earlier motions. The first motion was regarding the resignation of Mr. Adams, who had been the chairperson of the BCCC. Mr. Adams had been highly praised for his work, and his resignation was accepted with a vote of confidence. The second motion was the appointment of Mr. Parket as the new chairperson of the BCCC. Mr. Parket was commended for his previous work in the BCCC and was given the position. The third motion was the appointment of Professor Storer as the new secretary of the BCCC. Professor Storer was also commended for his previous work in the BCCC and was given the position.

The first two motions were passed, and the third one was accepted. The committee then went on to discuss the matters that were on the agenda for the meeting. The matters that were discussed included the setting of the policies for the BCCC, the setting of the goals for the BCCC, and the setting of the tasks for the BCCC.

The setting of the policies for the BCCC was discussed. The committee decided that the policies for the BCCC should be set in order to ensure that the BCCC would run smoothly and efficiently. The setting of the goals for the BCCC was discussed. The committee decided that the goals for the BCCC should be set in order to ensure that the BCCC would achieve its objectives. The setting of the tasks for the BCCC was discussed. The committee decided that the tasks for the BCCC should be set in order to ensure that the BCCC would achieve its objectives.

The meeting ended with the committee members expressing their gratitude to Mr. Adams for his hard work and dedication to the BCCC. The meeting then adjourned.
THE OUTSIDER

"Fruit of the Vine"

By FLAURA

Today I'm going to be thinking with an outdoor garden design, it will be a beautiful and productive space to enjoy the summer weather and fresh air. I would like to share with you some tips and ideas for creating a beautiful outdoor garden. I hope you enjoy it and get inspired to create your own outdoor garden.

We are in the middle of the summer season, and it's the perfect time to think about creating an outdoor garden. With the warm weather and longer daylight hours, it's the perfect time to spend some time outdoors and enjoy the beauty of nature. Creating an outdoor garden can be a great way to relax and unwind, and it can also help to improve your mental and physical health.

To start, you need to decide what type of garden you want to create. Do you want to create a flower garden, a vegetable garden, or a combination of both? You can also consider creating a garden with a specific theme, such as a butterfly garden or a pollinator garden.

Once you have decided on the type of garden you want to create, you need to plan the layout. You can use garden design software or simply sketch out your ideas on paper. Consider the size of your garden, the amount of sunlight it receives, and the types of plants you want to grow.

Next, you need to choose the plants you want to grow. Make sure to choose plants that are suitable for your climate and soil conditions. You can also consider using native plants, which are adapted to your local environment and help to support local wildlife.

Once you have chosen your plants, you can start planting. Make sure to follow the planting instructions for each plant and provide the right amount of sunlight, water, and nutrients. It's also important to keep an eye on your plants and monitor their growth.

In summary, creating an outdoor garden can be a great way to relax and unwind, and it can also help to improve your mental and physical health. By following these tips and ideas, you can create a beautiful and productive outdoor garden that you can enjoy all summer long.

Looking at Lib

My attitude regarding the femininity movement has always been strongly opposed. Instead of women working, the society has always been under the impression that women only work to support the husband and family. But today's women have changed and have become more economically independent. In the working world, women are now seen as equal to men, and they are no longer looked upon as mere housewives.

In the immense inflexibility of the male's concept of woman. She is known to have a child, she is a slave to these roles. She must be able to see the differences between her sex and the men's role. To prove that the Emancipation Movement is over, women must be able to see the differences between the sexes. In order for men to understand each other, they need to be able to understand each other. The time is long overdue for men to be able to see the differences between the sexes. In order for men to understand each other, they need to be able to understand each other. Letters To The Editor:
Candidate Cares 1
Dear Rosa Cerrato and TICKER,

I am a candidate for the Office of Sophomore Representative in the Spring election. I'm writing this letter in reference to your article entitled "The Elections are Coming; Where Are The Candidates?" in the last week's edition of TICKER. "Clubs which previously had their own rooms were not to be shared by other clubs. In certain examples cubicles which can only seat four to five people are now shared by three and four clubs. This meeting came as a crushing blow to several clubs. Clubs which had hoped for larger rooms which would better themselves as an organization."

I would like to quote what had been written in the editorial of last week's edition of TICKER. "Chubs need space. They need privacy. They need room to grow. They need the pride, self respect, and responsibility that goes along with being an office. Chubs need space, and they need it now."

"The present situation can be considered as a test to see whether or not clubs can be more than social organizations. They have a unique opportunity to show the entire Baruch College Community that they are worthy of their existence."

The first action shall be: On Thursday, March 9, 1972 there shall be an EMERGENCY MEETING OF THE COUNCIL OF CLUB-PRESIDENTS. Any students who are interested, in joining towards applying pressure for space to the SHE, PLEASE BE THERE!!

We shall seize this opportunity!!

Sincerely,
Jan W. Yablow

ONLY THE BEGINNING
by Barry Hoffman

During the past week I had the disastrous experience of attending what was known as the "Baruch College Student Center Space Allocation meeting." I use the word disastrous not to describe the meeting itself but to describe the present situation regarding the lack of space in Baruch College.

Spouses and club members had great expectations for this meeting. They had hoped for larger rooms which would better themselves as an organization.

This in turn, would further Baruch College as a whole in moving towards establishing a Baruch College Community. Clubs at the very minimum hoped to retain the rooms they had been allocated in the past. Unfortunately as we were so find out, this could not be reality.

This meeting came as a crushing blow to several clubs. Clubs which previously had their own rooms were not to be shared by many other clubs. In certain examples cubicles which can only seat four to five people are now shared by three and four clubs. This meeting not only blocked several clubs from functioning properly, but had further reinforced and proved the lack of space in Baruch College.

I would like to quote what had been written in the editorial of last week's edition of TICKER. "Chubs need space. They need privacy. They need room to grow. They need pride, self respect, and responsibility that goes along with being an office. Chubs need space, and they need it now."
