STUDENT GOVERNMENT ELECTIONS
To Be Held Wed., Thurs., Fri., Sept. 27-29

By Mitch Greenstein
Elections Committee

The chart you see is a sketch of the ballot booth the Elections Committee hopes you will enter between tomorrow and Friday. These elections will determine a Student Government for the next year. In order that organizations can get the funds to have their scheduled events or for the voice of the student body to be heard by the administration, the students of Baruch will have to give up a few precious seconds to vote for the candidates of their choice.

To vote, you will have to present your photo-identification card (or your bursar's receipt for consolidated fees in the case of freshmen) to be marked. At this time you will be allowed to enter one of the voting booths, which will be located in front of the Auditorium of the Main Building and near the front door.

The election machine to close the curtain for privacy in voting. Select the column that corresponds to the class in which you belong. Seniors will vote in the first column, juniors in the second, sophomores in the third and freshmen in the fourth. Going down the column that you belong, you will select the candidates you support for the given positions, and press down the lever next to his or her name.

When you have finished picking the candidates of your choice, review the levers you have pressed to see that they are correct. When all your choices are correctly in the down position, draw back the curtain with the same lever you used to seal out yourself. This will register your vote in the machine and let you out at the same time.

The levers you placed down will also pop back up to keep your vote secret.

One last thing to remember—in order to get the things you want out of this school, be it a cleaner cafe, more say on curriculum, or even the shuttle bus we all need, you have to get out and VOTE ON WEDNESDAY, THURSDAY AND FRIDAY.

Comparing the Freshman Center to its predecessor, the Freshman Center will be more usable, better suited to the Freshman's needs and learning in the center suggests that the Freshman Center will be the Freshman's "living room." As the Freshman Center opens, the Freshman Center will be open for use by the Freshman. The design of the Freshman Center is more open, with the Freshman Center being more open to the Freshman.

When asked if the Freshman Center was a "temporary operation" she responded with a firm "no" and explained that it was established to continue the Freshman Center's role in providing a central location for Freshmen. Acknowledging the Freshman Center's role in providing a central location, she added that the Freshman Center's role in providing a central location for Freshmen will continue even after the Freshman Center is closed.

"Vote For Your Life!!!!"
The Need To Vote

The Student body must realize that its greatest responsibility is to itself. It is through the ballot box that you have a right to express yourself. At Baruch you will not be able to look over your shoulder and see the campus government. It may be the only time in your life that you will have an opportunity to vote, and you must not let this chance slip by.

Student Body Politick

MICHAEL FISHBEIN

A column and its columnists are accountable to the reader, and the reader is accountable to the writer. The writer, in writing this column, is under the impression that the reader will support his opinion on the grounds of good argument, and the reader in supporting or opposing this columnist's view is under the impression that the writer is making a statement of fact. The writer is also under the impression that the reader will be responsible to himself for his vote in the upcoming Student Government elections.

Baruch Committee To End The War

One of the things that alcohol thrusts upon you is the idea that you are going to be a member of a group. The thought is that you are going to belong to a group that is going to be a part of something. When you are in a situation where you feel that you are going to be a part of something, you begin to think about yourself as a part of something. You begin to think about yourself as a part of a group. This is a very important thing, because it is through the group that you will learn to think about yourself as a part of something. You will learn to think about yourself as a part of something that is going to be a part of you. You will learn to think about yourself as a part of something that is going to be a part of you.

And Who To Vote For

After much consideration Ticker has decided to endorse Unanimous Unanimous for Student Government. She has no hesitation in doing so. Unanimous has been the student government for the past two years, and the students have been happy with it. There is no reason to believe that it will not be as good next year. Ticker has no reason to believe that it will not be as good next year.

New Star Goes To Africa

by Garry Grunberg

Before setting off on what was supposed to be a summer vacation traveling throughout Western Africa, I was amazed at the lack of information or written works that described the continent. The information that was available was aimed at tourists, focusing on how to find the best hotel, eat the best food, and enjoy the scenery. I found this to be disappointing, as my interest lay in the people, culture, and history of the region.

After many months of research, I decided to spend my summer in Western Africa, focusing on the lives of the people and their struggles. I discovered that the continent is home to a diverse range of cultures and ethnic groups, each with their own unique history and traditions. I was particularly interested in the impact of colonialism and its legacy on the people of the region.

I spent my time engaging with the local communities, learning about their way of life, and sharing my own experiences. I was struck by the resilience of the people, who have been able to maintain their culture and traditions despite the challenges they face.

In conclusion, my experience in Western Africa was a humbling and eye-opening one. I gained a deeper understanding of the complexity of the region and its people, and I hope to continue exploring and learning about the continent in the future.
to bring about improvements on campus. Hopefully, with your help, we can bring purposeful changes to baruch.}

Juniors Business

Flashcards, a great way for people to remember information. The idea of using flashcards is not new, but it can be a highly effective study tool. I propose the following plan to help students make better use of flashcards:

1. Create a Flashcard Library: Establish a library where students can borrow flashcards on a wide variety of subjects.
2. Flashcard Workshops: Offer workshops where students can learn how to make effective flashcards.
3. Flashcard Exchange: Organize an exchange program where students can trade flashcards with others.

Sophomores Business

Nelson Vergano

In my opinion, one of the best ways to be a successful student is to use the resources available to you. The Baruch Library is one of the most valuable resources on campus.

1. Library Redesign: I propose redesigning the library to make it more user-friendly.
2. Library Hours: Extend library hours to accommodate the needs of all students.
3. Library Services: Offer more services, such as study rooms and tutoring.

Seniors Business

Deborah Sergis

As a senior, I believe the time is now to focus on preparing for graduation. Here are a few suggestions:

1. Graduation Planning: Start planning for graduation early.
2. Graduation Checklist: Develop a checklist to ensure all requirements are met.
3. Graduation Parties: Organize graduation parties to celebrate.

Liberal Arts

Steven Goldberg

I believe that the liberal arts curriculum is essential for a well-rounded education. Here are a few proposals:

1. Liberal Arts Requirements: Increase the number of liberal arts courses required.
2. Liberal Arts选项: Offer more options in the liberal arts curriculum.
3. Liberal Arts Support: Provide more support for liberal arts students.

Freshmen Business

David Allen

As a freshman, I think we should focus on building a strong foundation. Here are a few ideas:

1. Freshman Orientation: Host a freshmem orientation to help students adjust.
2. Freshman Mentors: Assign mentors to freshmen.
3. Freshman Events: Organize events for freshmen to get to know each other.

Faculty Senate

Thomas G. Cohen

As faculty, we need to work together to improve the educational experience for our students. Here are a few proposals:

1. Faculty Meetings: Increase the frequency of faculty meetings.
2. Faculty Development: Provide training for faculty.
3. Faculty Support: Offer more support to faculty.

Remember, the success of our college depends on us all working together.
It's Been A Busy Year...

TICKER INTERVIEWS PRESIDENT WINGFIELD

"We're in a busy time, folks. We're getting ready for the fall semester. We're planning for the future, and we're trying to make Baruch College as good as it can be. It will be a challenging year for everyone, but I'm confident that we can do it."

WINGFIELD: Well, I'm glad to see you, too. That's why we're really interested in the student government, and we're doing our best to make sure that they're involved in everything that's going on. We're also trying to make sure that the staff and faculty are involved, too. It's a team effort.

TICKER: That's great to hear. What are some of the most pressing issues that Baruch College is facing right now?

WINGFIELD: Well, one of the biggest issues is the budget. We're trying to make sure that we have enough money to keep the college running smoothly. Another issue is the space we have available. We're trying to make sure that we have enough classrooms and laboratories for our students. And of course, we're also trying to make sure that we have enough funds to support our programmatic initiatives.

TICKER: How are you doing with enrollment?

WINGFIELD: We're doing well, thank you. We've been able to attract a lot of new students, and we're also trying to retain our current students. We're doing our best to make sure that our students have the resources they need to succeed.

TICKER: That's great to hear. Do you have any advice for students who are considering attending Baruch College?

WINGFIELD: Yes, I do. First of all, I would say that you should do your homework and find out what Baruch College has to offer you. We have a lot of great programs and opportunities for students. And secondly, I would say that you should be prepared to work hard. Baruch College is a place that requires a lot of dedication and effort. If you're willing to put in the time and effort, you can have a great experience.

TICKER: That's very encouraging. Thank you for your time, President Wingfield.

WINGFIELD: You're welcome. It was a pleasure talking with you. If you have any further questions, please feel free to contact me. I'm always here to help.

TICKER: Thank you. We appreciate it.

WINGFIELD: Of course. It was my pleasure.
Evelyn J. Jackson
I am a Junior Biology major and have been actively involved in Student Government for the past three years, including as an Aviation Representative. I have also worked as a part-time employee here at Baruch and believe that I have the experience to be an effective Senator. I would like to see the Senate be more focused on educational and financial matters rather than social affairs. I think that there should be more student involvement in the decision making process. In my opinion, the Senate is currently too dominant.

Gabriel Wax
I have been a member of the Senate for one year and have been active in other student organizations as well. I feel that the Senate has a responsibility to represent the student body and I would like to see more student involvement in the decision making process. Baseball Team Looks Good Baruch's baseball club was shuttered by a 12-2 victory last week against Hunter College, with the Blue Angels' pitching and hitting ruled victorious.

"The Blue Angels' 12-2 win should be a warning to other teams that we're prepared," said the coach.

The Blue Angels season was finished by a 12-2 victory in the last game of the season, with Hunter College being defeated by the Blue Angels on a 12-2 score.

Baruch's baseball team finished second in the league, with a record of 12-2.

Baruch's baseball team will face off against Hunter College in the next game, with a chance to win the league championship.
