Senate Cuts 19\% Off All Budgets
by Jake Jutkowitz and Rob Muhlrad

At its meeting of Tuesday, November 14, the University Student Senate, with Treasurer Mitch Greenstein’s recommendation, cut 19 percent off all organization’s budgets. The reason why such a big figure was asked for was because the allocations exceeded Student Government funds by over $15,000. The only exemption to this cut is Theatre.

After the Senate spent a considerable amount of time on Chairwoman Linda Matula’s calendar request, she withdrew her memo of November 10, asking all clubs to submit a calendar of events before receiving money. On Friday, November 17, Miss Matula sent out the following notice to all clubs:

Last week, all clubs should have received from me a note concerning calendars of scheduled events. I could not find any mention of or with the threat of holding back money, unless a letter was submitted. I sincerely apologize. Please disregard that note dated November 10 and accept the request for a calendar of your events. I still want this information. Just last week I just thought it would be a nice thing to do.

Thank you, in advance, for your cooperation.

If further action Lampert Leaders received an additional budget, further action including clubs, extra leaders, and all other actors were decided.

Math Department Revises Sequence

LSL Workshop applications, it is not to be considered a scholarship. P.R.I.D.E.,
reported in last week’s TICKER. A motion was passed stating “$3000 be put on reserve (including $1000 for scholarships) contingent upon the action of Student Personnel Services from which the amount will be requested for the Lampert Leaders workshop.” Also passed was a resolution requesting S.S.P.S. to pay for the salaries of the Baruch Hotline staff. The Senate earlier approved a motion to add $280 to the Hotline budget for salaries.

Other organization budgets passed were Contemporary Music Club and Yavneh. The Propelt Club request was tabled until next week.

In its final action of the night, the Senate conditionally removed the request for unlimited absences from classes. All organizations, however, must submit a revised budget to show how their funds will be allocated following the 19 percent cut.

The Baruch College Community Conference will conduct open hearings away with unlimited cuts for Juniors and Seniors on Thurs., December 7 from 4-6 P.M. and Monday, December 11, from 5-7 P.M. in the Faculty Lounge of the 24th Street Building.

The open hearings are being held to allow for student input pertaining to the need of not requiring classes attendance for Seniors and Juniors. Input from the faculty will be by a questionnaire asking if they feel students are hurt by not being required to attend classes. This questionnaire will also be sent to students who have experienced unlimited amount of cuts. A meeting of current Baruch Senate will also receive the questionnaire.

The issue was first raised at a faculty meeting. The following is the story TICKER carried at the time it was reprinted from the May 2, 1972 issue.

Schulman Reads
by Noren Szabo

Among the currents that grow a person there is a small, silent one. One that has no words. It is one that is not spoken of. In other words, Ms. Grace Schulman read her poetry for those of us that had the opportunity to hear her words. Her quiet energy moved us all. The poetry was collected from a collection by the same name.

Salvic Club Has Busy Fall Agenda

On October 20, members of the Baruch College Salvic Club visited the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The club members, accompanied by club faculty advisor, Professor Frazier, were treated to the collections of the 19th and 20th centuries by Tatiana Goncharova, a native of Moscow and a guest with the Museum.

On October 10, the club saw a special showing of Cherkashin’s play “Crime Vanyup,” on October 21, the club, at Hunter College, was given a showing of Borodin’s play “The Cranes Are Flying,” and on November 12, the club saw a way through a film of the Illustrated and Slavic Languages. Club hours are Thursday through Sunday, in the College Library.

Mussolini’s Fascist State Discussed In History Society

Mussolini’s Fascist State was presented to the History Society by Professor Frazier. Although the Fascist organization was already discussed, on the issue of the Fascist party did away with class conflicts that had troubled the Fascist party, by 1934, Mussolini began to realize that Fascism had accomplished its goals of destroying the liberal state, but Mussolini’s Fascist State was not nearly as totalitarian as Hitler’s Nazi state.
