PSC Pickets Baruch

By Michael G. Agrawal

Last Thursday, February 13, members of the Professional Staff Congress Picketed Baruch. The demonstration consisted of faculty members from several parts of the City University. The faculty was composed of professors, instructors, librarians, counselors, registrars, and lab technicians.

The protest began at 12:30 with about 25 pickets, but as time went on, their number increased sharply. The cause for their actions is the failure of the Board of Higher Education to seriously negotiate with the PSC since last June. Their contractual demands are backed by several good causes.

1. Failure of the University to support Open Admissions
2. Failure in grant due process
3. CUNY's opposition to the anti-inflation clause
4. Abolition of salary increments
5. Seven months of bungalow bargaining. Their contract demands include some of the following:
   a. Limitation on class size
   b. Reduction of the student-teacher ratio
   c. Maintenance of academic due process
   d. Prevention of downgrading of cramping staff

PSC has twice that because of picketing. They will become demanding and will fight among themselves, and won't have the energy to fight the Legislature during this critical fight to save funding and the CUNY system.

This is something of the PSC members that only a little over one tenth of these members could support the PSC contract system should it ever come down in a fight.

Chisholm Addresses SEEK Award Winners

Moses C. Kingfield talk in Congressman Shirley Chisholm Occasion

Shirley Chisholm, the Second Annual Awards Ceremony for SEEK students, was the guest speaker at the Second Annual Awards Ceremony for SEEK students on February 6th in the Main Auditorium. Dr. John C. Mitchell, Director of SEEK, described Mrs. Chisholm as the perfect selection to be guest speaker because she relates with the audience, understands the problems of the disadvantaged people, has charm with a sense of humor, and has a reputation for giving respect from the audience.

Mrs. Chisholm did receive a great deal of respect as she was greeted by the audience with a standing ovation. She described the battle fought by the New York State Legislature to get the SEEK program passed. It was needed to meet the needs and aspirations of young people to gain access to higher education. She told the students with nothing to do with her or her intimate abilities. She said that is given an opportunity. Mrs. Chisholm said that it is the right of every human being to get an education and prepare for upward mobility through higher education and financial aid, and is mandatory in her abilities through their lives.

Mrs. Chisholm spoke of being a woman, a working woman, and a working woman who went on to become a congresswoman. She related her life, her education, and her career. She spoke of her success in the business world and her success in politics. She related how she got involved in politics and how she became a congresswoman. She spoke of her work in Congress and her efforts to help the disadvantaged people.

Mrs. Chisholm also spoke of her work in Congress and her efforts to help the disadvantaged people. She emphasized the importance of education and the need for more help for disadvantaged people. She said that education is a key to success in life and that it is essential for students to be given the opportunity to get an education. She also spoke of her work in Congress and her efforts to help the disadvantaged people.

She ended her speech by thanking the audience for their support and encouragement. She said that she was proud to be working for the disadvantaged people and she hoped that her work would continue to make a difference in the lives of those who need it most.

Mrs. Chisholm concluded her speech by thanking the audience for their support and encouragement. She said that she was proud to be working for the disadvantaged people and she hoped that her work would continue to make a difference in the lives of those who need it most.

We're Being Taken For A Ride

A very serious situation exists regarding the elevators in the 10th Street Building. The malfunctioning electric eye allows the doors to close on whoever is between the hard rubber. This dangerous annoyance causes pain and frustration for anyone who enters these elevators. Certainly ample time has passed by for a semester or two and the administration has been fully notified of the problem. The answer is, "It's our concern but not our responsibility, as we understand it," is the New York State Dormitory Authority's Director of Campus Planning, Mr. Deventer. We are being told that this is a huge project that should be handled by the Building. Even two years ago, we had to wait for years for our dormitory elevator to be fixed. We are still waiting on that elevator. Our electric eye is working even though yours are not.

Computer Follies Part II

In last week's reply to an earlier editorial, Mr. Leo Basserman, Director of the Computer Center of Baruch College stated that the mailing of confirmations was the responsibility of the registrar, Lewis Thomas. In so doing he not only sidestepped the problem of the non-delivery of confirmations, but even the problem of the misdirection of confirmations. All confused students were sent to the registrar's office to find the confirmation. This is a situation that has existed for over two months and has eluded the Baruch community.

To the Editor:

We believe that in the future it would be helpful to the students if we could have some other form of printed notice, such as the Data Mailer. Other CUNY colleges have given their students the privilege of having printed grades to be sent in Data Mailers. Some students have been given their Data Mailers or their grades are in the Data Mailer. We have been given the Data Mailer and have to have their grades mailed in.

Do not be happy because Nissan has won the main event. They were just tooDamnTICKED off. If Nissan had been exhausted, then they were in a losing battle. For example, who ever heard of a Nissan car being an annual Car of the Year? Our cars are more reliable in the long run. They win awards and have been called "Car of the Year".

You can count on0 it being the same.

Newcastle is a city in the north of England. It has a cathedral, Philip James, and Thomas. It was visited by the former Prime Minister of England, Harold Wilson. It was the place where the Peace of Westphalia was signed in 1648 between the Catholic League and the Protestant princes of Germany, formally ending the Thirty Years' War.

Newcastle United Football Club was founded in 1894 and has been the senior team in the region of northeast England for many years.

Newcastle is not shorter than any city in the northeast of England. It has some of the best football teams in the country. It is neverceased to amaze me how the people of Newcastle have always been able to overcome all the obstacles in their way.

Newcastle is not quite like "Everything You Wanted To Know About Marketing Associations" was the title of the talk by Mr. William Copulsky at the recent A.M.A. meeting. Several presentations were given, but the one that stood out was Mr. Copulsky's. He discussed the role of marketing associations in the field of marketing and how they can benefit businesses.

He began by pointing out that marketing associations are an important resource for businesses. They provide a place for people to come together and share information, and they also offer opportunities for education and networking. He also mentioned that marketing associations play an important role in the business community, helping to shape the future of marketing and ensuring that businesses are able to keep up with the latest trends.

Mr. Copulsky also discussed the benefits of joining a marketing association. He said that members of marketing associations have access to a variety of resources, including publications, events, and training opportunities. He also mentioned that members of marketing associations are able to network with other professionals, which can be very beneficial for businesses.

In conclusion, Mr. Copulsky emphasized the importance of marketing associations in the field of marketing. He encouraged businesses to consider joining a marketing association and to take advantage of the resources that they offer.

Fencers Bow To Rutgers; Defeat FDU-Madison 18-9

Although winning two of the three weapons, the fencing team bowed to a strong Rutgers team, 15-12, at Baruch Saturday. The loss dropped the Statesmen's record to 4-4. However, the last five matches are against those teams that Baruch is favored to defeat, a second straight winning season is therefore in the offing.

Rutgers is one of the ranking teams in the East. They hold a victory over Columbia which is ranked among the top three in the East.

"It was our best match technically," stated coach Al Peredo. "but we made some mistakes and you can't do that and win against such an accomplished team as Rutgers." Still Baruch in two other recent matches Baruch defeated Fairleigh Dickinson of Madison, 18-4, and dropped a 14-13 decision to MIT in Boston.

Steve Smith and Rogelio Vernon led the victory over FDU with three straight sabre triumphs. Baruch opened the matches with three sabre victories and was never headed.

Saturday, cold with Bill Blake adding the other two wins. Arthur Sundre, Steve Kusar and Alfred Mira each picked up two wins as the epee squad prevailed. FDU won foil 5-4 despite two victories by Steve Schickler. The MIT match was as close as the final one point margin indicated. Seven of the bouts were decided by a single touch as Baruch came up on the short end in every one of them. Despite their seven one touch losses the match was tied at 13-13 going into the final bout. MIT took the match 5-4 to gain the victory.

Saturday the team travels to Brooklyn to face Pratt in a 2:00 p.m. start. The Canners dealt Baruch its only loss last year (18-3), but a different result is expected today.

Balance of the schedule has N.Y. Maritime, St. Peters and Jersey City State, schools Baruch beat easily a year ago and Yeshiva, a newcomer in the state.

Counseling Available For Baruch Students

Would you like to know that counseling services are available without cost to all students at Baruch? This includes everyone from Freshmen to Graduate students in Day and Evening.

You might apply for counseling when you feel:

The basketball team's bid for top seeding in the CUNY tournament failed last week as the Statesmen dropped last minute decisions to Brooklyn College, 86-76, and Lehman College, 74-73, in Saturday afternoon's doubleheader. Both games start at 7:30. A road game with New York Maritime on February 27 completes the schedule.

Baruch will then prepare for the CUNY Tournament which opens March 1 at City College. The seeding and pairings will be decided Sunday night at a meeting of the coaches, Brooklyn and Lehman will get the top two seeds with Baruch probably getting third seed among the eight schools.

This past week's action was Mark Stein, the senior forward, becoming the first Baruch player to ever score 1,000 points. Stein's last game against Queens with two minutes to play gave him his 1,000 career points. The game was Stein's and Bill Robinson's first meeting and the deficit closed to five points at 2:11 with five minutes left.

Stein finished with 10 field goals, but was only 5 of 12 from the foul line to the Lancers 16 for 28. The game was close throughout with six points the biggest margin in the second half. John Adams jump shot and a three free by Scott Charney brought Baruch within 74-70 with 1:27 left. Baruch fouled trying to get the ball back and Stan Brown made two free throws with 30 seconds to go and converted two foul shots making it a three point game again. Mark Stein scored as time ran out.

Lehman hit 39 of 51 shots for 76%, while Baruch went 34 for 93 for 37%. Brown had 22 points, Mc Nicholas 20 and Cooper 18 for the winners. Adams had 26 and Comby 15. Charney in 11 minutes scored 10 for his best effort.

6th Place

Marin Church's strong finish gave the track team sixth place in the CUNY track and field meet at Madison Memorial Gym.

The Statesmen dragooned last minute decisions going into the 10th team race. Fisher (12-7) of Rochester. Both games start at 7:30. A road game with Penn State in the eight team race Wednesday, 5:00 to 8:00 P.M., in Room 301, student Center. Five counseling psychologists are available in the Division of Counseling.

Did you hear the sound in the classroom? The game was close throughout at 77 with just over three minutes to go. Brooklyn then ran off eight straight points, all from the foul line, to decide the issue.

Actually Baruch finished with 16 more field goals. However, Brooklyn made 38 of 42 foul shots while Baruch took only 13 free throws and made 6. Ed Middleton and Bob O'Leary each picked up two wins as the epee squ
