STUDENTS TO VOTE ON CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

COMP. ED. DEPARTMENT CAUSES PROBLEMS FOR FRESHMEN

The Department of Compensatory Education, through a lack of planning and supervision, caused many complications during freshman registration this summer, Ticker has learned.

For the first time, the Department block programmed (or refused access to) 1300 freshmen before freshman registration. In other words, it made out the curricula-and sections. They had to be reprogrammed.

The Department, however, created more problems for entering freshmen than the Registrar’s Office (whose staff counseled the rest of the freshmen as they made out their programs). Omission of required courses and the failure to follow guidelines set by the dean of the three schools of the College and the department. The following are the programs:

—Freshman Seminar was not placed on the schedules of a large part of the 1300 freshmen, whose programs were created by the Department. Freshman Seminar is required for all freshmen. The courses were programmed as Freshman Seminar.

—Criteria set up by Deans Newhouse, Berrol, and Ijeward were made up by the Department. Freshman Seminar, however, was not supposed to be given to these students, yet it was. This, too, had to be changed, and programs reordered.

—Students who missed the placement exams were not block programmed at all, even on the basis of their high school records. Many of them needed remedial courses and didn’t get them.

—Some Evening Session students were told that they needed remedial courses — the Department offered no remedial courses in the evening.

—Programs were carelessly made out. Some were illegible and it was impossible to tell what courses were assigned to some students. Also, some students were programmed for non-existent courses and sections. They had to be reprogrammed.

The programs of 1200 students were made out by the Department of Compensatory Education without consultation with the students. They were not allowed to change their programs without the permission of Dean Mitchell, the head of Compensatory Education. Newhouse, who works, or who need certain hours free for personal reasons, have been greatly in

At Long Last, Published

Since last fall, we have heard about the various delays in publishing their fresh employee handbook. Many of us have been frustrated because we didn’t know what would be published in time for registration for the fall semester. Now, it appears that the handbook will be published for the freshmen registration for the fall semester. Throughout the year, we have heard that the handbook will be published in time for registration. Now, it appears that it will be published for the freshmen registration for the fall semester. It will be published in time for registration. We will receive the handbook in time for registration.

Mistakes Can Be Costly

The Department of Counseling Education had a good idea when they decided to plan the programs for freshmen. However, the mistakes that were made caused costly errors. One of the mistakes was not having enough space in a new freshman dormitory. This caused problems for the students who had to live in dormitories that were not large enough. This mistake caused complications for the students who had to live in dormitories that were not large enough.

Question of the Week

Are Baruch’s New Quarters a Curse or a Blessing?

By Shari Bower

Baruch College’s new quarters are on the first floor of the new building. The new quarters have been met with mixed reactions. Some students feel that the new quarters are a curse, while others feel that they are a blessing.

Season kicks off on Sept. 19 with Baruch opposing Pratt. Our highly regarded bowling team starts its season's schedule — and will take on the strong competition this season's schedule meets leading up to the CUNY Championships on Nov. 5. The cross-country team has made a great showing this season, with a Freshman record of 6 wins and 12 losses. The "fact that we are involved in less meets this season than last year, and we have more team members on the train. It should also help to improve our running in the CUNY Championships," said Coach Chmiel. He emphasized that a strong showing in the Championships would make a successful season for the Baruch cross-country team.

Three varsity lettermen are returning this season. They are 17-year-old Hal Ramsey, and Walter Cantey, who holds the school record in the mile run. Two other returnees are Al Bolton and Captain Paul Zayas. Steve Tepedino, with an excellent chance of making the team as a freshman, is expected to make the team eligible for varsity teams.

There are still spots open on both the cross-country and the track team, and if you are interested may contact Coach Chmiel in room 714A. The Main Building's facilities are open to all students during club hours (Thursday, noon to 4:45 p.m.). Facilities are as follows:

6 floor gym- Basketball Rec. and team meeting
6 floor- Table Tennis, Weight Lifting and Development ent. - Exercising, Modern Dancing, Movement Exercise - Sub-level (below main floor) - Swimming (Col-ed), Pool Area, and Recreation;

If you have any questions on Intramural sports, contact Coach Engel in room 225, 23rd Street.

I'll be keeping you updated on our teams through the week, so keep your eye on the sports page.

Until next week— PEACE.
