Finkelman Speaks
On Energy Problem

By ROB LIPSON

What is enerology and entropy, and where does it fit in American foreign policy in the Middle East, and the welfare of its citizens? Psychology Professor Jay Finkelman discussed this topic in his keynote lecture preceding a catered dinner for some thirty students at Hilliel, last Wednesday.

Professor Finkelman spoke in general over the "mild" energy crisis, enerology (ENERGY + COLONY) is the term used for describing the trade off (delicate balance) maintained, and now, is the term used for describing a general overall perspective — American policy and where does it fit in.

There is energy and where does it fit in.

Senior Issues Evaluation of Bruse; Called Vague;
P&F Process Starts Over?

Dean of Students Roy R. Sensen has made the following evaluation of Mr. Ron Bruse of the Department of Student Personnel Services.

MEMORANDUM OF SUMARY OF FALL EVALUATION CONFERENCE HELD ON TUESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1973 WITH THE EVALUATION COMMITTEE OF THE STUDENT CENTER, WITH THE FOLLOWING STUDENTS PRESENT:

As Chairman of the Department, and Dean of Students, I have evaluated Mr. Ron Bruse for the period covered since his last evaluation which was in the late spring of 1973. Essentially however, it covered the fall semester, to date, for 1973. I told Mr. Bruse this was an unsatisfactory evaluation.

I pointed out to Mr. Bruse that there has been some improvement in his overall performance since the spring of 1973, but there was still room for improvement in terms of informing his superiors where he was not able to present his responsibilities at the College. Mr. Bruse pointed out that he failed to come in on four occasions this semester. One time when his brother's family had some sort of crisis and once when he had a job interview. I also pointed out to him that he frequently appeared at the College when he was not scheduled to be here, which was somewhat discouraging to me and found his presence disruptive at least in the use of office space.

I noted there has been a continuing difficulty on his part in functioning within the hierarchy of the College. I pointed out that no one person should policy at the College, and specifically, within the student's evaluation in the student's personnel services.

In his opinion, it has been totally satisfactory.

As Chairman of the department, and Dean of Students, I have evaluated Mr. Ron Bruse of the Department of Student Personnel Services for the period covered since the last evaluation.

I emphasized that there were many positive things that we had contributed to the functioning of the College this year, but on balance, in my academic judgment, the performance was not satisfactory.

Mr. Bruse commented on my evaluation indicating that I had not observed him in a variety of settings, including committee meetings, which he functioned as an advisor to student groups. I disputed the validity of this, but I have also obtained comments from colleagues who have observed Mr. Bruse in these various kinds of settings. Mr. Bruse also felt that I was wrong in giving him an opportunity to correct the record.

In his opinion, it has been totally satisfactory.

Mr. Bruse asked me for specifics in adding up his failure to work as a team member. I laid out some items that were reported in minutes of Evening Session Student Government, and in minutes of the Board of Governors of the Student Center, which would lead one to believe that he had unilaterally made statements which affected policy and even fiscal matters related to the College without prior consultation with the Chairman of the Department, Mr. Ronald W. Bruse.

The first "Governance Plan Hearing" was scheduled to be held in room 4 North in the Main Building at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, December 19, 6:30 p.m. - the hearing started with Dean of Faculties, Bill Mosat, and Kevin Dubrow present. Dean Mosat and Mr. Dubrow discussed the plan at length and by 6 p.m. three more students and one faculty member appeared. The students were: Michael Finkelman, W.H. Gibbs, and Joyce Rosenberg with the faculty member being Ron Bruse. The small group wound up by expressing where others were and went on to discussing the plan. Charles Green, graduate student, then joined the group to make the total number for the hearing seven.

Education (BHE) mandated that every City University College have an adequate say in the future of its academic mission. The present plan is merely advice or suggestion to the President; I am concerned with scholarship why does President Wingfield desire, he need not consider the advice of anybody else. At any rate, why are students only in the advisory role? Why does the governance charter continue to downplay the role of the student in the development of a plan which will affect student lives, and in which students are allowed on the Faculty Senate?

No GOVERNMENT A government that you read about in history books is meaningless. The best government is one that you can participate in, one that you can take an active role in. One that makes you feel you are a part of the government. If President Wingfield provided a government that students will feel a part of, he would have an adequate say in the future of Baruch College.

Dr. Robert Ray, the President of Baruch College, recently told students that they should be good citizens and vote in the forthcoming election. The student should give the President a round of applause for such advice. But, how many students have decided to vote?

President Ray's advice will only do so much good. A large number of students do not vote because they are not interested, or because they feel that their vote will not make a difference. The President knows this, so why is he still trying to get people to vote?

The problem is that the students are not interested in the election. They do not want to vote because they do not care about the candidates. They do not want to vote because they do not care about government. They do not want to vote because they do not believe that their vote will make a difference. The President knows this, so why is he still trying to get people to vote?

The President's advice will not work unless the students are interested in the election. The students need to be interested in the election in order to vote. The students need to be interested in the election in order to be good citizens. The students need to be interested in the election in order to vote.

If the President wants to get people to vote, he needs to find a way to make the election interesting to the students. If the President wants to get people to vote, he needs to find a way to make the election interesting to the students. If the President wants to get people to vote, he needs to find a way to make the election interesting to the students.

5 School Records
Set At USCG
Academy Meet

Freeman Tyrone Cunningham, garnering one second place finish and one third place finish while setting two school records in the process, highlighted the Statesman's effort at the U. S. C. G.
Academy Intercollegiate
Track Meet on Dec. 11.

Cunningham, an AP Force
Major, placed second in the 60 yard dash with a time of 6.4
seconds—a school record—followed by Freeman George Bailey at 8.4 and sophomore Carlos Tait, last season’s MVP, at 8.8 seconds.

He set his second school record
by taking third place in the 60 yard high hurdles crossing the finish line in 9.2 seconds. Tait finished out of the money in the hurdles with a time of 8.2
seconds.

It was a good day for the distance runners as two school records were lowered in the one-mile and two-mile runs. Sophomore Larry Mortensen set the miles record with a time of 4:39.0 and freshman Steve Ter-ner set the two-miles mark coming across the finish line at 9:56.5.

The fifth record was set by the two-mile relay team. The hand-setting time of 8:08.8 was a revel of efforts by sophomore Marko Hlak (2-8.08), sophomore Stanley Brown (2-5.06), freshman MaryEllen (2-5.05) and sophomore Steve Ternner.

The single foursome combined for a time of 8:59.8 in the mile relay, the second fastest time in Baruch history.
