Dick Gregory's

By Richard Warren

On Thursday, Dec. 18, Dick Gregory will speak at Baruch College.

Mr. Gregory has been an activist for over 30 years. He is known for his work in civil rights and his dedication to human rights. He has also been a successful comedian, and has written several books on race relations and personal development.

Mr. Gregory will speak at Baruch College in New York City. The event is open to all students and members of the public.

Dick Gregory's	Coming To Baruch

By Steve Gaynor

I have good news and bad news to report this week, and, after much deliberation, I have decided simply to present the items in chronological order. As providence has it, the good news comes first.

In a dramatic proof of the credibility and effectiveness of the current student movement to protect free tuition and open admissions, the Board of Higher Education has decided to reject portions of the Regents' plan calling for the state to assume "full responsibility" for financing the City University.

As a result, students will not be barred from enrolling at C.U.N.Y. next semester. Indeed, next to words, we put up and they shut up. We have shown through dedication and action, we can protect that which is rightfully ours.

The bad news involves the State University of New York.

On Monday, December 11th, the Board, which sets educational policies for the State, released a plan calling for the state to assume "full responsibility" for financing the City University. In exchange, the ratio of B.H.E. members appointed by the governor to those appointed by the mayor would be raised from its present one-third to one-half. Obviously, this plan would signify state control over City University.

Just before the 1974-75 lecture tour, Mr. Gregory completed an 800-mile "run against hunger" from Chicago to Washington, D.C., to emphasize the problem of hunger in the world.

"There is a great social revolution going on in America today," Dick Gregory declares, "and the wonderful thing about the revolution is that it is not black against white. It is simply right against wrong. The number one problem in America today is not air or water pollution or moral pollution. The same moral pollution which keeps the smoke up in the air also keeps the Indian up on the reservation."

Mr. Gregory is non-vigilant. He does not believe in killing. He's also a vegetarian.

Dick Gregory is certainly a speaker worth listening to, so don't miss him this Thursday, December 18.

By Steve Gaynor

I have good news and bad news to report this week, and, after much deliberation, I have decided simply to present the items in chronological order. As providence has it, the good news comes first.

In a dramatic proof of the credibility and effectiveness of the current student movement to protect free tuition and open admissions, the Board of Higher Education has decided to reject portions of the Regents' plan calling for the state to assume "full responsibility" for financing the City University. In exchange, the ratio of B.H.E. members appointed by the governor to those appointed by the mayor would be raised from its present one-third to one-half. Obviously, this plan would signify state control over City University.

As a result, students will not be barred from enrolling at C.U.N.Y. next semester. Indeed, next to words, we put up and they shut up. We have shown through dedication and action, we can protect that which is rightfully ours.

The bad news involves the State University of New York.

On Monday, December 11th, the Board, which sets educational policies for the State, released a plan calling for the state to assume "full responsibility" for financing the City University. In exchange, the ratio of B.H.E. members appointed by the governor to those appointed by the mayor would be raised from its present one-third to one-half. Obviously, this plan would signify state control over City University.

Just before the 1974-75 lecture tour, Mr. Gregory completed an 800-mile "run against hunger" from Chicago to Washington, D.C., to emphasize the problem of hunger in the world.

"There is a great social revolution going on in America today," Dick Gregory declares, "and the wonderful thing about the revolution is that it is not black against white. It is simply right against wrong. The number one problem in America today is not air or water pollution or moral pollution. The same moral pollution which keeps the smoke up in the air also keeps the Indian up on the reservation."

Mr. Gregory is non-vigilant. He does not believe in killing. He's also a vegetarian.

Dick Gregory is certainly a speaker worth listening to, so don't miss him this Thursday, December 18.

By Bob Guilliano

Despite the growth of journalism at Baruch, the program faces an uncertain future due to the fact that two of the three journalism instructors, Joseph Cunneen and Jason Marks, have been notified that their services to the college will terminate August 31, 1976.

While five years ago day-sessions became an accepted mode of a two-credit course comprising 20 students, today about 100 students are taking journalism. In three courses, each of which contains three credits. A new course, Business and Financial Writing, has been scheduled for the spring term, together with the regular courses, Principles of Journalism, Journalistic Writing, and Reporter/Criticism and Reviewing.

Journalism and creative writing majors, already suffering from a lack of sufficient and varied course offerings, will suffer further by the loss of the two highly qualified instructors: Joseph Cunneen, former senior editor at Holt, Rinehart and Winston, and present editor of the quarterly Cross Currents: Jason Marks, a

New York Times

By Bob Guilliano

Despite the growth of journalism at Baruch, the program faces an uncertain future due to the fact that two of the three journalism instructors, Joseph Cunneen and Jason Marks, have been notified that their services to the college will terminate August 31, 1976.

While five years ago day-sessions became an accepted mode of a two-credit course comprising 20 students, today about 100 students are taking journalism. In three courses, each of which contains three credits. A new course, Business and Financial Writing, has been scheduled for the spring term, together with the regular courses, Principles of Journalism, Journalistic Writing, and Reporter/Criticism and Reviewing.

Journalism and creative writing majors, already suffering from a lack of sufficient and varied course offerings, will suffer further by the loss of the two highly qualified instructors: Joseph Cunneen, former senior editor at Holt, Rinehart and Winston, and present editor of the quarterly Cross Currents: Jason Marks, a

New York Times

U.S.S. Rep. Reviews CUNY Crisis

By Bob Guilliano

Despite the growth of journalism at Baruch, the program faces an uncertain future due to the fact that two of the three journalism instructors, Joseph Cunneen and Jason Marks, have been notified that their services to the college will terminate August 31, 1976.

While five years ago day-sessions became an accepted mode of a two-credit course comprising 20 students, today about 100 students are taking journalism. In three courses, each of which contains three credits. A new course, Business and Financial Writing, has been scheduled for the spring term, together with the regular courses, Principles of Journalism, Journalistic Writing, and Reporter/Criticism and Reviewing.

Journalism and creative writing majors, already suffering from a lack of sufficient and varied course offerings, will suffer further by the loss of the two highly qualified instructors: Joseph Cunneen, former senior editor at Holt, Rinehart and Winston, and present editor of the quarterly Cross Currents: Jason Marks, a
The Blues And Black Pride

By Rhett A. King

The University of Georgia was buzzing this week, according to the latest edition of The Ticker. The student body was abuzz with excitement, and the air was thick with anticipation. The atmosphere was electric, with students eagerly awaiting the arrival of theBlues and Black Pride.

Black and Blue, the University of Georgia’s premier black student organization, has been a staple on campus for many years. The organization has a long history of promoting cultural awareness and heritage, and this year was no exception. The annual event is a celebration of black culture and pride, and this year’s theme was "Roots and Culture." Students from various cultural backgrounds gathered to celebrate and support each other.

The event began with a vibrant parade through the University of Georgia campus, with students dressed in black and blue attire, carrying flags, and singing anthems. The parade was followed by a day-long celebration, including music, dance, food, and various educational workshops.

The event was a resounding success, with thousands of students attending and participating in the festivities. The music was electrifying, the food was delicious, and the workshops were informative. The keynote speaker of the day was Dr. Johnnie Houston, a renowned historian and scholar, who spoke about the importance of cultural heritage and the role it plays in shaping our future.

The success of the event was due in part to the hard work and dedication of the Black and Blue organization. The organization has been working tirelessly to promote cultural awareness and heritage, and this year’s event was a testament to their commitment.

The success of the event was also due to the support of the University of Georgia community. Students, faculty, and staff came together to support the event, and their support was a testament to the power of团结．

Overall, the event was a tremendous success, and it demonstrated the importance of cultural awareness and the power of unity. The University of Georgia community can be proud of the event, and we look forward to next year’s celebration of Black and Blue Pride.

The Silver Screen

By Brown Johnson

The Golden Globe Awards were held this weekend, with the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences presenting the honors for the most outstanding performances of the year. The awards ceremony was hosted by two-time host Steve Martin, and it was a spectacular event.

The show opened with a performance by the band U2, who sang their hit song "Where the Streets Have No Name." The band's performance was followed by a video that highlighted some of the year's top films, including "The Dark Knight," "In the Valley of Elah," and "Slumdog Millionaire.

The show then moved on to the first award of the night, Best Actor in a Leading Role. The award was presented to Morgan Freeman for his role in "Invictus," and he delivered a moving acceptance speech in which he spoke about the importance of unity and reconciliation.

The show continued with the Best Actress in a Leading Role award, which was presented to Anne Hathaway for her role in "Rachel Getting Married." Hathaway's performance was praised by critics and audiences alike, and she delivered an emotional acceptance speech in which she thanked her family and friends for their support.

The show then moved on to the Best Picture award, which was presented to "The King's Speech." The film was a critical and commercial success, and it was the first time a film with a cast of all British actors had won the award.

The show concluded with the Best Director award, which was presented to Christopher Nolan for "The Dark Knight." Nolan's film was praised for its innovative storytelling and spectacular special effects, and he delivered a heartfelt acceptance speech in which he thanked his crew and cast for their hard work.
Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

As a result of my religious obligations to print as one of several topics it is appropriate to deal with the following proposition:

"Times, obviously, have changed in our lives. The concept of "freedom" has been eradicated to a large extent and replaced by a new one: "human rights." The fall of the Berlin Wall was a victory for the human rights movement. The concept of "freedom" is now being replaced by "human rights." The former was a right to" freedom," while the latter is a right to" human rights."

In the new world of politics, the collapse of communism is often cited as a reason for the promotion of "human rights." The term "human rights" is often used to describe civil and political rights, such as freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and the right to vote. However, the concept of "human rights" also includes economic, social, and cultural rights, such as the right to education, the right to health care, and the right to work.

The promotion of "human rights" has been accompanied by a increase in the globalisation of politics and the internationalisation of law. The United Nations has played a key role in promoting "human rights," and has established a number of international treaties and conventions that aim to protect "human rights." These include the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights and the International Covenant on Economic, Social, and Cultural Rights.

The concept of "human rights" has also been used to justify the intervention of Western powers in the internal affairs of other countries, in order to promote "human rights." This has been criticized as an example of "human rights" being used as a tool of power and domination.

In conclusion, the concept of "human rights" has replaced the concept of "freedom," and has been promoted as a way of promoting the interests of Western powers. However, there are concerns about the use of "human rights" as a tool of power and domination, and about the effectiveness of international law in protecting "human rights."

Sincerely,

[Name]

[Address]

[City, State, Zip]
CANDIDATES AND POSITIONS

President

Richard Rodriguez

I am running for the position of Federation Committee representative. I have served as a member of Student Government and have seen firsthand the problems of the students. I believe that some of these problems may be solved in the future if we work together to bring about some change.

Vice President

Steve Rodriquez

I am committed to the needs of the students and believe that change can be achieved through unity and cooperation.

Secretary

Janice Williams

I am currently serving as the Secretary of the student government and have seen firsthand the problems that need to be addressed.

Treasurer

Dav M Levine

I have been involved in the student government for the past two years and have a good understanding of its operations.

COUNCILMAN

Umberto Johnson

Richard Stecher

Keithrew

Stuart Lewis

James Williams

TICKER ASSOCIATION

Madeline Crocito

Neville Daley

Eddy Byrd

Larry Waskowski

Alfred Wiesenberg

SENTARY ASSOCIATION

Hendy Andre

Evelyn Whitaker

Cecilia O’Reilly

Anna Rose Patti

Sharon Brown

William Gaffney

Gordon Williams

TREASURER

David B. Jones

In my three years of being a member of the Student Government, I have observed the problems of the Student Government in past semesters. It is time that the students take control and we establish a system that will bring about change.

STUDENT SENATE

David Levine

Liz Smith

Benjamin White

REMINDER

All students can vote for candidates for any position in the Federation Committee.

Select your Assembyman

1. — By school

2. — By class

3. — Vote for two only in your school and class (I.e., Freshman-Business)

Candidates And Positions
The following is a text representation of the document:

Candidate of Your Choice

23rd St. Lobby
4 PJH.

Dont Forget

360 PAS, 17th Fl.

Dec 17-18

PRESENT ID CARDS, please. (To show you care.)

We have been given a chance to elect a new Student Government.

The need is clear:)

Chiefs need the help of students to win.

The pick-up of the R & U ballot will reveal who your candidate is. On the R & U ballot, you will vote for a person who is not a candidate, but a member of the Student Government. The person you vote for will be part of the Student Government.

Therefore, I suggest that to get the candidates you want, you must vote for the person you want.

To achieve this, I have a different proposal which incorporates theirs. This proposal is paid eight dollars and what is paid, I hope you, the voters, will agree with.

I feel that the rallies this year for the Student Government were not successful.

I am writing to you to vote for the candidates you want.

The reason for this is that the Student Government is not paid eight dollars.

I believe that the Student Government should be paid at least five dollars.

In this situation, I hope you will agree with me.

I hope you will agree with me.
The “212 Community” presents
A Candidate’s Debate
2:30 to 4 p.m.
TODAY
Oak Lounge

Penhut Salon
Peter J., formerly of Vidal Sassoon
Saks Fifth Ave.
Paul McGregor - West Coast and N.Y.
Crimpers - Henri Bendel
Reasonably Priced, Unisex Haircuts
725-8731

The “Normal” Cuts
By Richard Warren

Baruch Basketball

The Yankees Big Deals

By Richard Warren

The Yankees made two major deals last Thursday. The first, which made the Yankees' future unclear, was the trade for Andy Capp. The Yankees acquired Andy Capp and a song, "A Laugher," along with a song, "A Laugher," and a song, "A Laugher," for a song, "A Laugher." The Yankees have been watching Andy Capp since the spring of 1975, when he was drafted by the Yankees in the third round of the MLB draft. The Yankees have been trying to trade for Andy Capp since that time, and finally made the deal last Thursday. The Yankees have been hoping to trade for Andy Capp for a long time, and finally made the deal last Thursday.

The Silver Screen

The Silver Screen is about the Vichy government and the French people. It is set in France during World War II, when the Vichy government was in power. The film follows the lives of ordinary French people as they struggle to survive in a time of great hardship and danger. The film features some of the greatest actors of all time, including Gérard Depardieu, Daniel Auteuil, and Isabelle Huppert. The film is directed by Costa-Gavras, who is known for his realistic and powerful films. The film was released in 1981 and has become a classic of French cinema.

The Student-Faculty Program

The Student-Faculty Program will hold its luncheon on Tuesday, December 18th, 12:30 p.m., 5th Floor, Faculty Lounge, in the 24th Street Building. All members of the Accounting Society are invited to attend this lavish buffet.

The “Normal” Cuts

By Richard Warren

Baruch Basketball

The “212 Community” presents
A Candidate’s Debate
2:30 to 4 p.m.
TODAY
Oak Lounge

Penhut Salon
Peter J., formerly of Vidal Sassoon
Saks Fifth Ave.
Paul McGregor - West Coast and N.Y.
Crimpers - Henri Bendel
Reasonably Priced, Unisex Haircuts
725-8731

The “Normal” Cuts
By Richard Warren

Baruch Basketball

The Yankees Big Deals

By Richard Warren

The Yankees made two major deals last Thursday. The first, which made the Yankees' future unclear, was the trade for Andy Capp. The Yankees acquired Andy Capp and a song, "A Laugher," along with a song, "A Laugher," and a song, "A Laugher," for a song, "A Laugher." The Yankees have been watching Andy Capp since the spring of 1975, when he was drafted by the Yankees in the third round of the MLB draft. The Yankees have been trying to trade for Andy Capp since that time, and finally made the deal last Thursday. The Yankees have been hoping to trade for Andy Capp for a long time, and finally made the deal last Thursday.

The Silver Screen

The Silver Screen is about the Vichy government and the French people. It is set in France during World War II, when the Vichy government was in power. The film follows the lives of ordinary French people as they struggle to survive in a time of great hardship and danger. The film features some of the greatest actors of all time, including Gérard Depardieu, Daniel Auteuil, and Isabelle Huppert. The film is directed by Costa-Gavras, who is known for his realistic and powerful films. The film was released in 1981 and has become a classic of French cinema.

The Student-Faculty Program

The Student-Faculty Program will hold its luncheon on Tuesday, December 18th, 12:30 p.m., 5th Floor, Faculty Lounge, in the 24th Street Building. All members of the Accounting Society are invited to attend this lavish buffet.

The “Normal” Cuts

By Richard Warren

Baruch Basketball

The Yankees Big Deals

By Richard Warren

The Yankees made two major deals last Thursday. The first, which made the Yankees' future unclear, was the trade for Andy Capp. The Yankees acquired Andy Capp and a song, "A Laugher," along with a song, "A Laugher," and a song, "A Laugher," for a song, "A Laugher." The Yankees have been watching Andy Capp since the spring of 1975, when he was drafted by the Yankees in the third round of the MLB draft. The Yankees have been trying to trade for Andy Capp since that time, and finally made the deal last Thursday. The Yankees have been hoping to trade for Andy Capp for a long time, and finally made the deal last Thursday.

The Silver Screen

The Silver Screen is about the Vichy government and the French people. It is set in France during World War II, when the Vichy government was in power. The film follows the lives of ordinary French people as they struggle to survive in a time of great hardship and danger. The film features some of the greatest actors of all time, including Gérard Depardieu, Daniel Auteuil, and Isabelle Huppert. The film is directed by Costa-Gavras, who is known for his realistic and powerful films. The film was released in 1981 and has become a classic of French cinema.

The Student-Faculty Program

The Student-Faculty Program will hold its luncheon on Tuesday, December 18th, 12:30 p.m., 5th Floor, Faculty Lounge, in the 24th Street Building. All members of the Accounting Society are invited to attend this lavish buffet.
Frank Matos hit for four points and Dom Marronaro added four more as Baruch closed within 31-28 with a minute left in the half. Adelphi got the final six points in the half to take a 37-28 lead.

Adelphi extended its lead to 43-32 early in the second half, but the Statesmen countered with a 13-4 burst with a three-point play by Maurice Vega triggering the streak. Sandy Lanham's driving lay up brought the margin down to two points.

The Panthers would open the lead, but Baruch, led by Charney, would keep coming back. Baruch was within 71-66 with just under two minutes left when two missed free throws thwarted the comeback. Adelphi held the ball out andEventually converted its free throws to build up the final margin to 11 points.

Between the Adelphi and Old Westbury games Baruch lost the services of John Steuer its Most Valuable Player last season. The 6-4 junior, who was the second leading scorer and rebounder this season, severely sprained his ankle during practice. His leg was placed in a cast and he will be out for four weeks.

Jim Barrett, a 6-6 junior, will replace Steuer in the starting lineup. Barrett made his first start in the Westbury game and hit a career high of 10 points.

Baruch came close to the division title this year. If Baruch had beaten Seton Hall in the final league game then the Statesmen would have won the crown. However starting goalie Jefferson Herndez broke his elbow in the game prior to the Seton Hall contest. The result was that the Pirates took advantage of Baruch's reserve goalie's inexperience and posted a 2-1 victory.

The Statesmen posted a 9-3-1 record clearly the best in history. No Baruch soccer team had ever had a winning season before or won more than give games.

First year coach Bill Eng used only one senior on the starting team so that chances for a Division championship next season are excellent.

Baruch came close to the division title this year. If Baruch had beaten Seton Hall in the final league game then the Statesmen would have won the crown. However starting goalie Jefferson Hernandez broke his elbow in the game prior to the Seton Hall contest. The result was that the Panthers took advantage of Baruch's reserve goalie's inexperience and posted a 2-1 victory.

The Statesmen were 3-1-1 in league play finishing one point behind first place Lehman which went 4-1. Baruch beat Lehman 2-1 during the season.

Overall the Statesmen posted a 9-3-1 record clearly the best in history. No Baruch soccer team had ever had a winning season before or won more than five games.

First year coach Bill Eng used only one senior on the starting team so that chances for a Division championship next season are excellent.

Baruch came close to the division title this year. If Baruch had beaten Seton Hall in the final league game then the Statesmen would have won the crown. However starting goalie Jefferson Hernandez broke his elbow in the game prior to the Seton Hall contest. The result was that the Panthers took advantage of Baruch's reserve goalie's inexperience and posted a 2-1 victory.

The Statesmen posted a 9-3-1 record clearly the best in history. No Baruch soccer team had ever had a winning season before or won more than five games.

First year coach Bill Eng used only one senior on the starting team so that chances for a Division championship next season are excellent.

Baruch came close to the division title this year. If Baruch had beaten Seton Hall in the final league game then the Statesmen would have won the crown. However starting goalie Jefferson Hernandez broke his elbow in the game prior to the Seton Hall contest. The result was that the Panthers took advantage of Baruch's reserve goalie's inexperience and posted a 2-1 victory.