Students Unite
In Albany

By Jim Hedges

College students from the campuses of CUNY and SUNY rallied together in Albany last Tuesday in an effort to head off legislation which it was feared would drastically curtail the colleges' activities in the city. It was feared that if the bill was passed, it would drastically cut the state's support of the colleges and would put them on the road to possible closure.

It was feared that a bill would be introduced to cut off state funds to the colleges. Some of the students assembled outside the halls of the college buildings and tried to get access through the windows but were blocked by security forces. The idea of these students was to prevent the bills from passing through the legislature.

Alleged Assassination Attempt:
Students Demand Police Action

By Richard Rodriguez and Mark Friedman

Saturday night, March 20, tensions between student protesters and the police at the State Capitol Building in Albany continued to rise. Three students, including Mark Friedman and Mark Friedman, were arrested at the State Capitol Building in Albany. The three students were later released.

The students were protesting against the proposed legislation that would cut off state funds to the colleges and would put them on the road to possible closure.

T A Attempts To Oust Editor

By J. Warren

J. Warren is currently the editor of the News, a newspaper on campus. He is a member of the Ticker Association, which is the official student organization on campus. He is also a member of the University Student Senate, which is the official governing body of the university.

The Ticker Association is attempting to oust the editor of the News, J. Warren, from his position. The association has been trying to oust him for several months. It is attempting to oust him because it believes that he is not doing a good job. The association is attempting to oust him because it believes that he is not doing a good job. Wingfield Urged To Oppose Shah’s Repression

By CAROL TARJUN and MILDRED WINKING

President Clyde J. Wingfield of Baruch College yesterday urged the Congress to veto President Reza Pahlavi’s request to extend Iran’s emergency powers. In a letter to President Carter, President Wingfield said: “The Shah’s request to extend his political emergency powers is contrary to our own American democratic principles and the principles of the United Nations.”

President Wingfield in his letter said: “The Shah has now twice extended emergency powers to himself. It is now time that the world acknowledged how unacceptable it is to have a President extend his own authority. It is time to make it clear that the Shah’s actions are unfathable.”

Chairman of the Academic Freedom and Free Speech Committee of the American Association of University Professors, President Wingfield said: “It is time to make clear to the Shah that the world will not tolerate his actions.”

Dr. Wingfield also urged the Congress to enact legislation to aid the students in Iran. He said: “It is time to make clear to the Shah that the world will not tolerate his actions.”

This is an open letter to all the fellows and gals in the Pre-Med Program. In the United States, being a medical student is a tough job. You have to work hard, and you have to be careful of what you say and do.

Dear Pre-Med Students,

We are writing this letter to express our concern about the Pre-Med Program. As you know, this program is designed to prepare students for a career in medicine. However, we believe that the program has some serious flaws.

First of all, we believe that the program places too much emphasis on grades and test scores. We feel that this is not the best way to select students for medical school. We believe that students should be selected based on their interests, their values, and their commitment to helping others.

Secondly, we believe that the program does not provide enough training in the humanities. We feel that a well-rounded education is important for any professional. We believe that students should be encouraged to study literature, history, and philosophy.

Finally, we believe that the program does not provide enough training in the skills needed to be a successful doctor. We feel that students should be trained in communication, problem-solving, and decision-making.

We hope that you will consider our concerns and work to improve the Pre-Med Program. We believe that a better program will benefit all students.

Sincerely,

[Your Names]

TO: Dr. Roy R. Senour, Jr.

Director of Student Activities

RE: Chartering of Student Organizations

Thank you for your Memo of March 10, 1976 concerning the matter of the Ski Club and Student Board of Directors. Your action is fully supported by Mr. Bloom, Student Officer, and Mr. Gallagher, Student Officer.

I do hope that the attached responses to my Memo to Mr. Grodin are as acceptable to you as they are to Mr. Bloom and Mr. Gallagher.

At this time, I would also like to ask you to forward a copy of these responses to Mr. Martin, who is currently involved in these matters.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Louis Carrade

I don’t know where all the material that was new to me.

I heard from a band member that a new album is expected to be available next month before the current release. I don’t know if anybody will make it, but the fans will certainly be satisfied, and the fans will want more.

Military Recruiting Fraud

The most risky thing for a student-athlete to do is fail; yet that is what will happen in the upcoming season of Division I college football. The Army will try to predict what will happen in the Eastern and Western Divisions of both the American and National Leagues in 1976.

AMERICAN LEAGUE EAST—Boston's youth movement, such as Fred Lynn with a batting average of 331 and Bill Buckner with a batting average of 309 should come through again in 1976. Given the Boston division title, Baltimore, with a pitching staff led by Palmer and Torre should come in second place by a narrow margin over the Yankees. The amount of aging players that Baltimore has committed by New York's loss of power makes second and third place very close and hard to predict. Baltimore, however will have the luxury of the fact that the club had more homestands than the Yankees before Bonds was traded away. The Yankees as defending champions have even more stolen bases than Baltimore with the acquisition of Steve Renko, but this is not enough to offset the loss of home run power. An improved Cleveland team should come in fourth and the holding my breath with the pitching staff will bring Detroit into the nummber one position.

AMERICAN LEAGUE WEST—Little can change for Kansas City. The Angels should be good enough for a fifth straight division title. The Angels could be expected to win the runner-up spot but the Angels by acquiring speedsters Bobby Valentine and Bill Freehan may make it third. Texas may be a close fourth with Chicago and Colorado doing the training.

NATIONAL LEAGUE EAST—The pitching addition of Jim Kaat who had a 20-14 record last year can be made up by the power of Greg Luzinski (120RB), and Mike Schmidt (38 HR) should make it possible for the Phillies to win the division. New York and Pittsburgh are experienced pitchers to their staffs. The Pirates added Doc Nunn the NL's winningest pitcher in 75 and the Mets added Jerry Koosman who was a 12-11 winner in 75. It should be understood however that the Padres in addition to considerably more runs to work with than the Tigers gave to Golich and therefore the Mets and the Pirates are even on this point. The Pirates have a very strong starting pitching, the Padres are excellent relievers and the Mets have a very good pitching staff. The Padres may take fourth place if they have a few young starting pitchers. The Padres may take fourth place. The Padres also expect infield improvement by the acquisition of infielder Rudy Meoli. Mark LEMONELLO, a promising young pitcher was added by the Pirates. The Padres also expect infield improvement by the acquisition of infielder Rudy Meoli.
