NILES SPONSORS REGISTRATION DRIVE

Last week D.S.S.G. President Chris Niles and some volunteers successfully conducted a voter registration drive for the upcoming presidential elections. Niles felt that by staging this drive we could draw support from politicians in helping us fight against the termination of free tuition and open admissions.

Thornhill Seeks U.S.S. Chair

By Richard Rodriguez

It was secretly disclosed sometime last week that former Day Session Student Government Treasurer Carlyle Thornhill, who is presently the S.S.S.G. Representative to the University Student Senate, will seek the office of the U.S.S. Chairperson. The official announcement is expected to be made later this afternoon at a U.S.S. press conference.

During the past nine months, voices of discontent have been raised against the incumbent chairperson, Maynard Jones. In a paper prepared by Carlyle Thornhill on behalf of D.S.S.G. at Baruch, he states:

"During the past nine months we have been witnesses to, and participants in the decline of the University Student Senate from its rightful position as the voice of the entire CUNY community. No longer is its inputs to decision making invited, or when tendered, respected."

In regard to the causes behind this decline, he further writes: "There is a total breakdown of communication between the U.S.S. and the constituent student governments. In addition, the U.S.S. is seen as a dumping ground for malcontents of the respective colleges." He continued by pointing out that there has been a total absence of any (U.S.S.) program for the year."

There are at the present time six candidates for the University Student Senate, comprising: Harry Tracey (Bronx Community); Al Greco (Queens); who is at this time undeclared; Ken Thomas (Queensboro); Richard Izzo (Brooklyn); Joseph Bigman (Queens); and, of course, our own Carlyle Thornhill.

Thus far, of all the candidates, Mr. Thornhill is the only person who has stated, in his position paper, concrete methods to restore the U.S.S. to an active, viable body, which can exert influence on the University administration: (1) commitment by the everyday rank and file student; (2) reinstatement of academic programs; (3) the restoration of Open Admissions and No Tuition; (4) U.S.S. assistance given to the Council of University Publications (COUP); (5) improvement of the CUNY Voice; and so on. All of these, as well as other significant recommendations, are a part of Mr. Thornhill's plan to provide the University Student Senate with the leadership it so badly needs in order to accomplish University-wide goals.

After observing the Senate in its present pursuit of inactivity, the TICKER staff joins with other groups within the University in supporting Mr. Thornhill's bid for the Chair.

to the Baruch College

The Baruch College community and women of the Department of Biology have come to realize and understand the importance of having a female in the field of biological science as a scientist. The result of this realization is the establishment of a female scientist association, known as the Women in Biology Society. This association was formed to provide a supportive environment for women in the field of biology, to promote their involvement in scientific research, and to encourage the next generation of female biologists.

One of the main objectives of the Women in Biology Society is to foster a network of collaboration and mentorship among its members. By connecting female biologists at various stages of their careers, the society aims to provide them with valuable insights and resources to help them succeed in the field.

In addition to these educational and networking opportunities, the Women in Biology Society also aims to raise awareness about the challenges faced by female biologists, particularly in terms of access to funding and support. By highlighting these issues, the society hopes to inspire change and advocate for greater support and inclusion for women in the field of biology.

Overall, the Women in Biology Society is dedicated to promoting the success and advancement of female biologists. Through its efforts, the society aims to create a more equitable and inclusive environment for all biologists, regardless of gender.
From Front To Back, "The Front" Was Great

By RICHARD WARNER

Many great comedians have produced such memorable pictures as The Front, a film that everyone should see. The film is well written, well acted, and well directed. The performances are excellent, and the chemistry among the three main characters is very effective.

BARRY MANILOW: "This One's For You"

Diseases are a common cause of suffering. Many of them are untreatable, and a large number of them are untreatable because they are related to drugs. This film is an excellent example of the way in which a drug addict can make the difference between life and death.

The Seven-Per-Cent Solution

By KAREN HENICH

This was my first opportunity to see the film "The Seven-Per-Cent Solution." I was impressed with the acting, the direction, and the story. It was a very good film and it will stay with me for a long time.

The Writing Examination

All students who are enrolled in the English department are required to take the Writing Examination at the end of the semester. The exam is designed to test the students' writing skills.

Inside Books

Three Journeys

Dr. Paul Zweig, a professor of philosophy at the University of California, is the author of a very personal and thought-provoking volume. Zweig is both powerful and climatic. "The Godfather," a film about the life of a man who is destined to a life of suffering, is strongly recommended.

Disco What?

This is a truly funny and even enjoyable book. In case you haven't heard of it yet, Disco Duck is a Donald Duck voice singing a Donald Duck song. It is probably one of the most interesting things you will ever see.

The New Hope For Tomorrow

A new film is being shown at the International Film Festival. "The Front" is a film about the life of a drug addict. It is a truly inspiring film and it is well worth seeing.
Intramurals And Recreation

By CHARLES ROTHMAN

An unprecedented thirteen exciting intramural tournaments, including basketball, tennis, swimming and volleyball, plus eight sensational intramural programs such as bowling, dancing and gymnastics have been scheduled by the Intramural and Recreation Division of the Physical and Health Education Department for the Fall 1976 semester. The different tournaments and programs are designed to allow all students to enjoy their favorite sports in an organized and supervised fashion.

Bonnie Kloc and Tom Creccovia, the coordinators of the entire program, hope that every student will get involved in at least one activity. "We are trying to give the students something for the money that they pay," said Tom. He emphasized that the tournaments are open to everybody, with no restrictions.

The basketball tourney, consisting of as many eight-man teams as possible, will commence Thursday, Oct. 7. Although most teams will be organized on a random basis, a group may enter themselves as a unit. However, the applications must be submitted by today, Oct. 6. All tournament applications are available in room 708, where Tom and Bonnie will answer any questions.

"The intramurals are for everyone, not just men," Bonnie noted. She stressed that "trying to get women involved is an important aim of this program." There will be men's and women's individual competitions in tennis (entry closing date: Oct. 7), handball (Oct. 8), foil shooting (Nov. 4), the famous Thanksgiving Turkey Trot (Nov. 18), swimming and badminton (both as soon as possible). In addition, volleyball (Oct. 14), one of the two new tournaments and table tennis (Oct. 15), will be composed of co-ed teams.

Testing events such as weightlifting (Nov. 15) and tug of war (as soon as possible) are among the remaining tournaments. Water lovers can dive in for water polo (as soon as possible).

Although the volume of entries is greater than this time last year, the hard-working coordinators are hoping that the students—that's you—will ignore any shyness, apathy, or "that's too silly for me" attitude and enter the less familiar events. "All programs will be played," promised Tom. Provided there is enough interest, and participation.

The highlight of the extraordinary program will be the marvelous Superstars competition, to be held later in the term. The event, patterned after the popular ABC-TV version, will pit students and faculty in individual, separate competition, and then as teams. The victors of these immovable objects and irresistible forces will crash together in a survival of the fittest. Last year's king, Robert Carson, has declared that, "I definitely intend to defend my title." Tom and Bonnie wish that challenge will be answered by everyone who has ever participated in any sport, for the Superstars face an unfortunate cancellation of the response is not voluminous enough. The scheduling of the competition depends upon the immediate speed in filing applications.

For the ladies who desire an active part in the Superstars and all other varsity sports, cheerleaders tryouts are scheduled for Oct. 7, from 12:30 P.M. to 4:30 P.M., in room 611.

Supervised individual jogging is just one of the recreational programs being offered. The Armory's track can be utilized Monday-Friday, 9-5 P.M. Those who want to record their progress can obtain log sheets in room 708, and eventually "join" the 100 or 250 Mile Run Club. Aquatics and beginners may join the Swim Club, which meets Mondays and Wednesdays, 3:5 P.M. Women are encouraged to sign up to prevent the men from taking over the pool (23rd St.).

There is a 50 and 100 Mile Swim Club for the miles. An Exercise through Dance program, featuring instruction in elementary ballet and popular dances, including the Hustle, is slated for Mondays and Fridays, 1:2-3 P.M. Ask Bonnie or Tom for its location when you sign up.

A physical conditioning program through weights and calisthenics is plotted for Mondays and Fridays, 1:2-3 P.M. in room 611.

Tentatively planned is a hike around Manhattan on a route which will try to touch major points of interest in the City. As in the Superstars, a certain minimum of applicants is necessary to insure this program's survival.
