The murder of John F. Kennedy, the subject of much recent speculation for its possible connection with a foreign conspiracy, says Carl Oglesby, an early president of the Assassination Information Bureau (AIB) in Cambridge, Massachusetts, has contributed substantially to AIB's views on domestic and foreign conspiracies. Oglesby describes the AIB as the source of the book, which traces the background of the assassination and the unholy alliance back to World War II compromises of Roosevelt with organized crime. The book is available at the AIB bookstore.

The investigation was initiated as a result of a letter sent by Oglesby, a member of the Assassination Information Bureau, to the Senate Select Committee on Assassinations. Oglesby alleges that JFK was killed by a conspiracy of government, the FBI, CIA and other agencies. He further alleges that the Warren Commission, which investigated the assassination, was a cover-up for the true motives of the assassins. Oglesby's thesis is that the murder of Dealey Plaza was but one point in a larger conspiracy that included the Cuban exile community and the Mafia.

The last issue of The Campus, the student newspaper of the College of New York, was censored by the Allen Board of Higher Education, which reversed the senate's decision to suspend publication. The newspaper had been using its pages to express opinions that some members of the college administration considered inappropriate. The newspaper's editors have decided to continue publishing, despite the censorship.

The Student Activities Corp. of Queens College is investigating possible embezzlement of student funds by members of the Italian Club. Although no outside charges have been pressed against these individuals, they may be prosecuted within the confines of the college. This persons allegedly defrauded the students intentionally by turning in gas station receipts and cashing club checks and pocketing some of the money.

The AIB bookstore is located at 24th Street and 3rd Avenue, New York. It is open from 11:00 A.M. to 7:30 P.M. Monday through Friday, and from 11:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. on Saturday.

Most of us are aware of the dangers inherent in being involved in the life of a college. This is especially true if you are involved with the people running the college and the faculty. The more you get involved in the college, the more you become aware of the dangers of being involved. Unfortunately, many people are unaware of the dangers and fail to take appropriate precautions. This can lead to serious consequences, including injuries or death.

Replacing the oil filter in the modern age is quite simple. If you are using a modern-day oil filter, you can simply pull the filter out and replace it. On some older models, you may need to twist the filter to get it out. Be sure to use a new filter when replacing the old one. Make sure to check the owner's manual for specific instructions for your vehicle.

The Last Tycoon... Hopefully

BY JIM HEDGES

One would imagine that the last chapter of F. Scott Fitzgerald's novel The Last Tycoon would have a lesson or two for us about the nature of success. The previous 12 chapters have been transformed into a box of子里 and The Last Tycoon is more of an extension of that story, with the author's life story having already been all but forgotten.

The Last Tycoon is an interesting novel. It's a story of a great man, a great woman, and a great family. It's a story of success and failure, of joy and sorrow, of happiness and despair.

The Last Tycoon is a story of a man who has it all. He has the money, the power, the influence, the friends. He has everything he could possibly want. And yet, he still isn't happy. He still isn't satisfied. He still isn't content. He still isn't fulfilled.

The Last Tycoon is a story of a woman who has everything, but she still isn't satisfied. She still isn't content. She still isn't fulfilled.

The Last Tycoon is a story of a family who has everything, but they still aren't happy. They still aren't satisfied. They still aren't content. They still aren't fulfilled.

The Last Tycoon is a story of a life. A life that is full of success and failure. A life that is full of joy and sorrow. A life that is full of happiness and despair.

The Last Tycoon is a story of a woman who is always looking for more. A woman who always wants more. A woman who never feels satisfied. A woman who never feels content. A woman who never feels fulfilled.

The Last Tycoon is a story of a family who is always looking for more. A family who always wants more. A family who never feels satisfied. A family who never feels content. A family who never feels fulfilled.

Out of sight of my soul, I search...

I search for you in every dream.

I search for you, for you...

or yourself, made pure and emerged into space...

I search for you in the cold moonlight.

While I dream of you in my anxieties.

Need the soft caresses

because we were born to meet and

Perhaps, I shall find you when the beautiful roses

when the sunsets turn sorrowful into an evening...

...and be myself.

Simon And Harrison

By Richard Warren

Two weeks ago on NBC's "Today," Alan Ladd's film versions of Simon and Garfunkel's "Old Grey Whistle Test" and "The Graduate" were shown. What was the highlight of an afternoon TV show? A full dress rehearsal of Simon and Garfunkel, in a show that proved to be a musical delight.

As a result of the rehearsal, a full-length show was scheduled to air. The show, "Simon and Garfunkel," was later broadcast on NBC. The show featured a full dress rehearsal of the band, with a special guest appearance by Simon and Garfunkel.

The highlight of the show occurred when Simon and Garfunkel sang "The Sound of Silence," a song that was written by Eric Clapton. The performance was particularly strong, with Garfunkel's lead vocals being particularly amazing but not one of them doing justice to the song. The entire show was a musical delight, with additional performances of "The Sound of Silence," "Brand New Day," and "I Am a Rock." The show concluded with a rousing rendition of "The Sound of Silence."
frequently circulated minutes of the Assembly meetings. (A word of caution: reading minutes at a meeting are not legal unless they have been approved.) Harry Gibbs is on the payroll, while Morty Mini, Gordon S. H., and DeeDee Dixon have not been paid from last year yet.

Somebody on the Assembly has been lapsing into the respective asses or the scan- dals that broke in Washington over the head of Nixon. There will be nothing compared to the repercussions that were in December. Assuming, of course, that Harry will permit the people to have their say, it only works a little harder than he did last December, there will be no elections.

Another word of caution to the beloved triduum (Carly, Harry, and Chris): old Assembly persons do not fade away or disappear. They will continue to get the bastards the hell out.

Dear Dean Finkelman:
A request toErrol Gronum for the minutes of the Fees Committee meeting has been to no avail. His answer has been that the secretary is trying them up: an efficient secretary should have no trouble finding minutes of any Fees Committee meetings if they have been approved.

Additionally, in accordance with the Fiscal Guidelines of October 27, 1976, Section I (G), the treasurer, Errol Gronum, has failed to provide the December minutes of the submission of budget appeals.

Numerous student club executives have requested information as to when this Appeals Committee has been convened. I request that the Dean's office attempt to rectify this situation.

To the Editor:
Because you are a leader, please help stem our people'sDepressing Rush Toward Disaster, the importance of this plea is emphasized by the following information, which is to be found in your university's yearbook:

The following is a compilation of the lives of people who were in office as of the November 9, 1976 election:

John S. Johnson, Mark Schecter, Robert Caro, Herb Kislow, Kevin Johnson, Vulius Thompson, Joe Kennon, Francine Caviano and Sabrina M. Mitchell.

The following is a compilation of the lives of people who were in office as of the November 9, 1976 election:

Charles Rothman, 1976-1977
Lenny Donner, 1975-1976
Kevin McCarthy, 1974-1975

Linda Fisher exhibited her all-around athletic ability — she's a member of the women's basketball and volleyball teams — in taking the ladies' half-mile in 3:17.8. Frank Solkoff also won a turkey for public welfare. The students had $41 a per capita 1966 expenditure.

In addition, the following students are elected to the specified groups:
Disciplinary Committee — Philip Helmowitz, Herbert Weeke.
Student Senate — John Chamberlain.

The student Senate, the leading body of the Day Session Student Assembly, has been at a loss. It is apparent that the intent of the Evening Session Student Assembly will serve as the Elections Review Committee to provide the background to the resolution of the Assembly. The first fall semester of the Assembly was filled with proper notification statements that were published in The Reporter, in accord with Evening Session Student Assembly.

It appears that the intent of the Assembly will be to functional status, similar to the regeneration of the Day Session Student Assembly.

It is clear that the questions are asked rather than asked by them.技艺 Finn and THE TICKER editorial are legitimate and must be reviewed in detail. Furthermore, the Office of the Dean of Students and the Office of the Student Assembly will serve as the Elections Review Committee to provide the background to the resolution of the Assembly.
