WBBM May Lose Funding

Unless It Meets Four Conditions Three Have Been Met

By Eric J. Fox

WBBM, the college radio station, may lose its funding unless it complies with four conditions set by the Baruch College Communications Board, according to Ronald M. Aaron, the associate dean of student affairs.

"A lot of money has been invested into the operation of WBBM," said Aaron, "and questions were raised last year by an array of board members as to where it's going? What's going to happen?"

The four conditions are: WBBM must submit to the board by Oct. 15, 1984, a "written time-frame" for completion of broadcast capabilities; a long-term plan for the direction of WBBM must be presented to the board by Nov. 15; a listing of present and past advertisers must be provided to the board; and the staff of WBBM must enter into negotiations with The Ticker "to print a column or purchase space for the inclusion" of the Music Box, WBBM's newsletter. The first three conditions have been met. The fourth has not.

According to Anatoly Herman, the chairman of the Communications Board, the submission of a written time-frame for full broadcasting capabilities "will result in a significant improvement in the quality of programs." The Communications Board is responsible for allocating money to Baruch College media.

WBBM has complied with the first condition, according to Aaron. "The initial report did come in well before Oct. 15 and what she (Joan Chin) has done is give me a periodic update," said Aaron.

As of late November, according to Zweroff, the 360 Park Avenue So. basement and cafeteria have been "hooked up." The Student Center and the cafeteria in 17 Lex-

---

Three Students Robbed In Bathroom; Second Incident In Two Weeks

By David F. O'Brien

On Nov. 7, three Baruch College students were robbed in the first floor men's room of 46 E. 26th St., according to the security office.

One of the victims, who wishes to remain anonymous until the pending police investigation is completed, said that a medium complexioned black male, about "5'10" and 250 to 280 pounds, walked up to him from behind, saying "what you got in here?" He proceeded to hit him in the face but a --A ---A I asked him if he could give the wallet back and just take the money, and he did.

"After that, two other people came into the bathroom. The guy took a watch off of one of the other students and then gave it back. After that he took off."

The three students then told the security guard on duty at the elevator bank of the 26th Street building. About twenty minutes later, a police car from the 13th Precinct arrived at the building. The students spent the rest of the night making statements and looking through mug shots, while police tried to make a composite of the assailant from the reports given by the students.

A "formal report of a robbing occurring in the men's bathroom, a week earlier, was also given to security. However, the person who reported the incident to security left after giving the complaint and has not yet come forward to formalize it. The description of the assailant in this case is similar to that of the description given by the three students on Nov. 7. Henry J. McLoughlin, director of "The Ticker"

Continued on Pg. 7, Col. 1

---

Reporter Faces Staffing Shortage; Two Issues Delayed This Fall

By Jill Richburg

"There have always been problems. At first they're enthusiastic (potential staff members) and then they're not so interested," she said.

Presently, The Reporter's staff is made up of fewer than 15 students, or about half the number who work for The Ticker.

"We are just not as staff-heavy"

Continued on Pg. 7, Col. 1

---

Student Teacher Evaluations To Be Held This Fall

By Eric Ku

Student evaluations of teachers will be held this fall but there will be no spring evaluations, although students say evaluations should be held both semesters.

Jeffrey Weiss, chairperson of the student council, said that evaluations held "once a year is not enough." Weiss explained that a student can only voice his or her opinions about a teacher once a year. Since students have different professors in the fall and spring, the evaluations should be held twice a year, Weiss said. Weiss added that since the results of these evaluations are for everyone to see, students should go to the Day Session Student Government (DSSG) office and look at them.

Lester S. Golub, dean of the School of Education, disagrees with Weiss. He said that "once a year is enough." He said there aren't "100 percent responses to the evaluations." Elizabeth Schwertman, coordinator of annual student course and teacher evaluation projects agreed and added that "most students don't take evaluations seriously," and "students don't exercise their right" to view the evaluations. Golub said if a student wishes to express his or her opinion about a teacher, they should write a letter to the department chairman.

Golub also said that the evaluations cost too much to have twice a year. Ronald Schurin, director of institutional research, said that evaluations held once a year cost between $10,000 and $12,000. This covers such areas as staff time and paper costs. Schurin said that "one staff person works on this for months."

 Asked if there should be evaluations twice a year, Ronald M. Aaron, associate dean of students, said, "I see nothing against it," although Aaron added that did not.

Continued on Pg. 5, Col. 4
Drinking Away Our Rights

On Nov. 1, Club Fair was held in the Student Center. Later that afternoon, a fire alarm was opened in the student center, 2nd floor, during the evening session of the Octoberfest. The alarm would not be turned off.

The administration seems to think so.

This past Thursday, the bar that was opened during the Octoberfest was "hit" once again. This time no party was going on. According to Charles Lyles, the evening Director of the Student Activity Center, the bar that was opened was in the Student Center. Only one person was in the bar during the Octoberfest.

The problem that occurred during Club Fair was also the beer bottles that were found in the seventh floor lobby. The beer was of a brand that was being served at Club Fair, the alcohol may have been consumed. Yes, why was the consumption of alcohol allowed in the lounge? Was security aware even of this? Obviously, the lounges are not supervised enough. The English department is also on the seventh floor. The attack might have stemmed from some grievances against them. Dean Henry Wilson, Jr. has admitted that there is no statistical correlation between social events and vandalism. Yet doubts remain.

The help needed problem, whether it is real or imagined, some steps have been taken. On Friday evening security in the Student Center has been doubled. Also, according to the security officer, extra manpower has been assigned for the holiday season. Yet other actions can be taken by ourselves. We must learn to take the coming season and we must have our own watchdogs. Our events must remain ours, club that organizes events must also supervise them. Admittedly, their responsibility is pooled out in their alcohol permit, but supervision must be active and visible. And, if someone has too much to drink he or she should not be served any alcohol.

College Yes, Crime No

Living in a near perfect college system in New York City, we become used to what we read about crime. However, when three same students come to school they don't expect to be victims of these crimes.

Within the past month and a half there have been two reported robberies that occurred in the student center. The first robbery occurred on November 1st and a half a floor has been sighted in the same building. The security office has received a "capture" of one suspect, but since that has been flashed, according to Melanie Carpenter, assistant director of security at Baruch. The question is "Why has it happened? An extra security guard is on duty. An extra security guard has been placed at the 46th St. 2nd floor entrance, which is a good move considering security is paramount.

Unfortunately, students should be made aware of the fact that the crimes took place. Direction. The campus police department carried out an investigation. They confiscated all "information about this," in reference to the robberies, is questionable. Informing students about the occurrence of crimes will not make students safer, but it might make them more careful and alert.

The campus police department should be more effective. Still, if all students are careful, this is certainly not an easy task. The only way Baruch can be safe is if students notify the security service or guard that something is wrong. It is very important to get an education, part of the curriculum should be "learning how to be a victim of a crime.

Indira Gandhi's Legacy

By Ajay Shukla

It is a tragic irony that Indira Gandhi has become a household name in India. She has no doubt been a controversial figure, her perpetuation during the two decades since her assassination has brought her name to the forefront of political consciousness. As an icon, her memory has been a source of inspiration for many Indian politicians.

The legacy of Indira Gandhi is complex and multifaceted. Her policies and leadership style had a profound impact on Indian society, politics, and economy. She was the first woman to hold the office of Prime Minister in India. Her policies of nationalization, economic reforms, and military intervention were both praised and criticized.

In the years following her death, her legacy has been fiercely debated. Some view her as a strong leader who modernized India, while others view her as an authoritarian leader who suppressed democracy and human rights.

Her policies of nationalization, economic reforms, and military intervention were both praised and criticized. Her leadership was marked by both success and failure, and her legacy remains a source of debate and discussion for Indian politicians and citizens.

Indira Gandhi was born on November 19, 1917, in Delhi, India. She was the daughter of Jawaharlal Nehru, who was the first Prime Minister of India. She started her political career as a member of the Indian National Congress, and later joined the Indian National Congress. She became the leader of the Indian National Congress in 1966.

She was elected as a member of the Lok Sabha, India's lower house of parliament, in 1951. She served in various capacities in the Indian government, including as a minister in the Nehru government. She became the first woman to be appointed as a minister in 1959.

After the assassination of her father in 1964, she became the leader of the Indian National Congress and the Prime Minister of India in 1966. She was re-elected as the Prime Minister in 1971.

Her policies of nationalization, economic reforms, and military intervention were both praised and criticized. She was criticized for her authoritarian style of leadership, and her government was accused of corruption and human rights violations.

Her legacy remains a source of debate and discussion for Indian politicians and citizens. Some view her as a strong leader who modernized India, while others view her as an authoritarian leader who suppressed democracy and human rights.

On April 1, 1984, the United States, Canada, and 26 Western European nations formed a military alliance known as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) in response to the collapse of the Warsaw Pact. The United States of America was one of the founding members of NATO. The alliance was established to deter any future aggression by the Soviet Union and its satellite states.

The collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War in 1991 marked the beginning of a new era for NATO. The alliance adapted to the changing geopolitical landscape and began to diversify its missions and operations.

However, the threat environment has evolved over the years, and NATO has continued to adapt to meet new challenges. Today, NATO is a flexible and agile alliance that can respond to a wide range of threats, including terrorism, cyber attacks, and hybrid warfare.

On December 4, 1984, the United States, Canada, and 26 Western European nations formed a military alliance known as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) in response to the collapse of the Warsaw Pact. The United States of America was one of the founding members of NATO. The alliance was established to deter any future aggression by the Soviet Union and its satellite states. The collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War in 1991 marked the beginning of a new era for NATO. The alliance adapted to the changing geopolitical landscape and began to diversify its missions and operations.

The collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War in 1991 marked the beginning of a new era for NATO. The alliance adapted to the changing geopolitical landscape and began to diversify its missions and operations. The collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War in 1991 marked the beginning of a new era for NATO. The alliance adapted to the changing geopolitical landscape and began to diversify its missions and operations.

The collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War in 1991 marked the beginning of a new era for NATO. The alliance adapted to the changing geopolitical landscape and began to diversify its missions and operations. The collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War in 1991 marked the beginning of a new era for NATO. The alliance adapted to the changing geopolitical landscape and began to diversify its missions and operations.

The collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War in 1991 marked the beginning of a new era for NATO. The alliance adapted to the changing geopolitical landscape and began to diversify its missions and operations. The collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War in 1991 marked the beginning of a new era for NATO. The alliance adapted to the changing geopolitical landscape and began to diversify its missions and operations.

The collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War in 1991 marked the beginning of a new era for NATO. The alliance adapted to the changing geopolitical landscape and began to diversify its missions and operations. The collapse of the Soviet Union and the end of the Cold War in 1991 marked the beginning of a new era for NATO. The alliance adapted to the changing geopolitical landscape and began to diversify its missions and operations.
By Joe Spejenkowsld

The SEEK (Search for Education, Elevation and Knowledge) Tutoring Center has been tutoring students during the last few years, according to officials, the Department of compensatory program.

The service was initially organized to compensatory programs in 1978 for SEEK students. Since then, it has been expanded to include non-SEEK students in need of extra help. According to includes non-SEEK students that are not part of the SEEK program. An estimated 1,500 to 2,000 students are tutored each semester.

Of that number, according to Jose Oscar Alers, chairman of compensatory programs, only one out of four is a SEEK student. With such an interest in the program, non-SEEK students have been tutored during the semester. Currently, the tutoring center has coordinators, and what coordinators of the program explained, "SEEK students are often failing courses that are remedial in nature. This is not a problem identified with any student at Baruch College." According to Alers, the tutoring center has made a significant impact on students during the semester.

Although several professors want to see a greater increase in the funding of the program. That funding has now reached a total of $134,000 a year. Currently, the funding comes from various other sources, such as the city, the Baruch College Fund, the Baruch Endowment, and the Work Study Program. In addition, the center is an area, the center is a part of the program. That program is responsible for making sure the center is adequately funded. The program is also a part of the school's accounting, math, statistics and computer science curricula.

A number of tutors declined to comment on their work. In the current environment, he did not want to comment on the tutoring program. The majority of students interviewed said that evaluations should be made available to the student government.

It's Never Too Late to Join "The Ticket." Sign up for Spring. Ron. 30th Student Center.
HELP THE NEEDY!

Hispanic Society presents its 2nd Annual Christmas Toy Drive, Dec. 3rd through Dec. 20th

Bring all new or used toys to our deposit boxes, located at:
1) Student Center lobby
2) 18th St. bldg. lobby
3) 23rd St. bldg. cafeteria
4) 24th St. bldg. lobby
5) 7th floor library

International Employment

Directory

Please send me a copy of your Directory for an immediate refund. On that basis I’m not satisfied with the job directory you sent me. Please return it, with a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NAME ________________________________
ADDRESS ________________________________
APARTMENT ________________________________
CITY __________________ STATE ____________
ZIP Code ________________________________

ORDER FORM

International Employment Directory

Please send me a copy of your International Employment Directory for __________________________.

+ $1.00 postage & handling (minimum of $1.00)

Total enclosed $_____

Please make your check payable to International Employment Directory.

Name ________________________________
Address ________________________________
City __________________ State ____________
Zip Code ________________________________

SENIORS

Make your appointment now for your YEARBOOK portrait.

Inquire at information desk, Student Center.
WBMB

Continued from Front Page

WBMB has submitted a "student proposal" for a series of workshops that will air on the Broward Community College's FM station. The series of talks will be on the subject of "Community Concerns," according to WBMB's managing editor, Robert Gordon.

"I think that this is a very good idea," said Gordon. "WBMB has received over 250 letters from our listeners, expressing their desire to hear these talks."

"We are very pleased with the response," said Gordon. "We believe that these workshops will help to inform and educate the community about important issues."
Neighborhood Closeup: The Fight to Revitalize Madison Square Park

By Byra Wertheimer

Brown wood was exposed where the green paint had worn away from the surrounding Madison Square Park. Lawns are trampled, the overflowing park receptacle contemplative. The shrubs in the park were not given back to the people. People out the park play day and night just through might notice a change in the overall setting, but for the man and woman who are working toward the restoration of the park the fight goes on.

The Madison Square Park community was enraged with the New York City Parks Department to begin a revitalization project of Madison Square Park. The Parks Department acknowledged that the Park is in a state of severe decline. It has been nominated as a National Historic Landmark by the National Park Service for two more years. Jack L. Litt, President of Madison Square Park Commission, has been quoted as saying the “intense competition really helped with construction.”

The Department to begin renovation, the public will have to be involved. The Parks Department completed its studies and began construction. The Department said that he comes to the park daily. He started an organization called Urban Park and Culture. The program is one of a kind in the CUNY system. Baruch hopes to ride this rising wave.

Marie A. Peluso, a Baruch graduate, has been with a department to begin a revitalization project of Madison Square Park. The list stressed that the maintenance list. The list stressed that the maintenance in the park.

At this moment, the program is focused on the landscaping of the park. The Department to do something they have to do. Allen Sheingorn will teach the art portion. The program is one of a kind in the CUNY system. Baruch hopes to ride this rising wave.

The Graduate: Baruch Alumnus Looks Back A Decade After

By Mary A. Peluso

When registering for Spring semester, a course in psychology may not be in your program. Maybe it satisfies a requirement, or maybe it is elective for you major, or perhaps you are just interested in the subject. Baruch Alumna, Professor Michael Plekon, who comments, “Maybe it satisfies a requirement, or perhaps you are just interested in the subject.”

Baruch’s Religion and Culture program is one of a kind in the CUNY system. Baruch has a “very comprehensive program,” says Plekon. Baruch hopes to ride this rising wave.

Baruch’s Religion and Culture program is one of a kind in the CUNY system. Baruch hopes to ride this rising wave. While he was attending Baruch, he comments, “Maybe it satisfies a requirement, or perhaps you are just interested in the subject.”

Baruch hopes to ride this rising wave.

The Graduate: Baruch Alumnus Looks Back A Decade After

By Mary A. Peluso

When registering for Spring semester, a course in psychology may not be in your program. Maybe it satisfies a requirement, or maybe it is elective for you major, or perhaps you are just interested in the subject. Baruch Alumna, Professor Michael Plekon, who comments, “Maybe it satisfies a requirement, or perhaps you are just interested in the subject.”

Baruch’s Religion and Culture program is one of a kind in the CUNY system. Baruch hopes to ride this rising wave. While he was attending Baruch, he comments, “Maybe it satisfies a requirement, or perhaps you are just interested in the subject.”

Baruch hopes to ride this rising wave.

The Graduate: Baruch Alumnus Looks Back A Decade After

By Mary A. Peluso

When registering for Spring semester, a course in psychology may not be in your program. Maybe it satisfies a requirement, or maybe it is elective for you major, or perhaps you are just interested in the subject. Baruch Alumna, Professor Michael Plekon, who comments, “Maybe it satisfies a requirement, or perhaps you are just interested in the subject.”

Baruch hopes to ride this rising wave. While he was attending Baruch, he comments, “Maybe it satisfies a requirement, or perhaps you are just interested in the subject.”

Baruch hopes to ride this rising wave.

The Graduate: Baruch Alumnus Looks Back A Decade After

By Mary A. Peluso

When registering for Spring semester, a course in psychology may not be in your program. Maybe it satisfies a requirement, or maybe it is elective for you major, or perhaps you are just interested in the subject. Baruch Alumna, Professor Michael Plekon, who comments, “Maybe it satisfies a requirement, or perhaps you are just interested in the subject.”

Baruch hopes to ride this rising wave. While he was attending Baruch, he comments, “Maybe it satisfies a requirement, or perhaps you are just interested in the subject.”

Baruch hopes to ride this rising wave.
Fashionable Fads

Last year’s craze, the Cabbage Patch Kids, are sporting a stlly look this Holiday Season. Oufits for the "kiddos" include winter attire such as fur coats and sheepskin ensembles.

Prices start from $18 up.

"It can serve you coffee in bed," chuckles the security guard at FAO Schwarz. Located on the corner of 58th Street and 5th Avenue, FAO offers "Omnibots" at a modest $375. This programmable companion will wake you up, charm you with your favorite music and probably talk you into going to work.

What’s the BIG idea?

You’ll think you've stepped into an episode of Gulliver’s Travels when confronted by these "bigger than life" sculptures. Think Big sells a variety of handmade objects which are faithfully detailed to look like the original. Prices range from $10 to $250. Think Big is located at 390 West Broadway, SOHO.

Exotic Flights

Vintage glassware, home accessories and toys are not a thing of the past. Visit Johnny Jungle for more.

PHOTOS • Mary Valentin

Bayer Aspirin

For those giant size headaches?

7” diameter

$10

Church Key

42” x 8”, chrome/steel, can readily open any conversation.

$75

BIRD JUNGLE’s prices start from $18.95 for Zebra finches to $3,500 for the splendid fellow pictured at right. "They’re affectionate and live from 75 to 100 years," says the courteous salesman. "You’ll fall in love with each other." 401 Bleecker Street, N.Y.C.

Another Planet?

A colorful breath of tropical paradise can be found on the corner of Bleecker Street and W. 11th Street: BIRD JUNGLE. Prices start from $18.95 for Zebra finches to $3,500 for the splendid fellow pictured at right. "They’re affectionate and live from 75 to 100 years," says the courteous salesman. "You’ll fall in love with each other." 401 Bleecker Street, N.Y.C.

Talk about mirrored glasses! 33” x 13” convex lenses, chrome wire rim.

$125
FEATURES

Author Speaks on the Effect of Black Women in American History

By Lee N. Rhines

On November 19, a cold, blistery, winter morning, Paula Goldberg, author of "How And When I Know: The Impact of Black Women in Race and Sex in America, (Williams & Littlefield, $15.95), spoke to an audience of some 60 to 70 students. Goldberg, an assistant professor of American History at New York University's Institute of Education, said Goldberg, before the lecture be

 Pending further availab

 "This is a fascinating story," Goldberg said, "of black women's experiences in American society. Goldberg said that black women have played a central role in American history, but have been "neglected" in terms of academic study. "I'm always happy to talk to students," Goldberg said, "so I'm happy to come to class and speak with them." Goldberg spoke about the history of black women and their contributions to American society. "Black women have been central to the development of American culture," Goldberg said. "They have been active in politics, in science, in the arts, and in education."

The Impact of Black Women on American History

According to Goldberg, black women have played a central role in the development of American culture. "American women have been central to the development of American culture," Goldberg said. "They have been active in politics, in science, in the arts, and in education."

Goldberg said that black women have been "neglected" in terms of academic study. "I'm always happy to talk to students," Goldberg said, "so I'm happy to come to class and speak with them." Goldberg spoke about the history of black women and their contributions to American society. "Black women have been central to the development of American culture," Goldberg said. "They have been active in politics, in science, in the arts, and in education."

The Impact of Black Women on American History

According to Goldberg, black women have played a central role in the development of American culture. "American women have been central to the development of American culture," Goldberg said. "They have been active in politics, in science, in the arts, and in education."

Goldberg said that black women have been "neglected" in terms of academic study. "I'm always happy to talk to students," Goldberg said, "so I'm happy to come to class and speak with them." Goldberg spoke about the history of black women and their contributions to American society. "Black women have been central to the development of American culture," Goldberg said. "They have been active in politics, in science, in the arts, and in education."
Theatre: Neil Simon Grows Up

It is a sign of a successful Brooklyn play when a sequel is also a hit. Last year, the musical comedy "Can't Wait All Night" by the playwright was a hit. Now, two years later, the popular show has been revived with a sequel opening night in 1984. Neil Simon's new Broadway musical, "Beach Memoirs," has been predicted to be a hit.

Stage: Whoopi! A Star is Born

Whoopi Goldberg, who shot to fame as the lead character in "Ghost," is now taking on a new role in Broadway's "Beach Memoirs." Her character, the lead singer, is said to be a "wildly talented" performer. The show is a "reunion" of sorts, as Goldberg made her Broadway debut in "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." The show opens in March.

Revue: Letter-Perfect Comedy

Letter-Perfect Comedy, directed by Gene Saks, is a hit on Broadway. The show features a cast of 28, including Whoopi Goldberg, and is getting rave reviews. Goldberg's character, the lead singer, is said to be "a real standout." The show is said to be "a rare example of the delicate balance between laughter and serious moments." The audience laughs with recognition.

A Musical Offering: Critics Sample The Latest Releases

Golden Earring's "Sign of Life" (Polygram Records, BHM-1171) is a hit with critics. The rockers play with a "sense of urgency," according to the reviewer. The album is praised for its "aggressive" sound.

Billy Squier's "Signs of Life" (MCA Records) is a hit with critics. The rockers play with a "sense of urgency," according to the reviewer. The album is praised for its "aggressive" sound.

Japanese record artist Tantum's "Timeline" (Elektra Records) is a hit with critics. The album is praised for its "creative" sound.

Joan Jett and the Blackhearts' "Album of Love" (MCA Records) is a hit with critics. The album is praised for its "aggressive" sound.

The Smiths' "The Queen is Dead" (Sire Records) is a hit with critics. The album is praised for its "creative" sound.

The Pretenders' "Pretenders II" (A&M Records) is a hit with critics. The album is praised for its "aggressive" sound.

The Who's "Who's Next" (London Records) is a hit with critics. The album is praised for its "aggressive" sound.
The Inheritors is a powerful film, which shows how a group of individuals, including the main protagonist, Thomas, who is a young and idealistic businessman in West Berlin, becomes entangled in the Nazi movement.

In the beginning there was no rock ’n’ roll. It was a music of the masses, something that everyone could relate to. It was a form of music that transcended boundaries and differentiates those who are close to each other. In this film, we see the same thing happen. This film demonstrates that any form of music can be recreated with the help of those who have the passion.

Another fine performance is given by Michael Loyd, who plays Thomas’s mother. She is right on target in her portrayal of a dominating mother who constantly naggs Thomas and his brother about their differences.

The Inheritors is indeed a powerful film that shows how people can be influenced by music and real-life stories. The film is a remarkable one that can be considered as a true masterpiece.

The music created by Delta and Chicago blues has a long and interesting history. The one-word answer to this question, which is called rock ’n’ roll, was the term rhythm and blues. Black and white music was popular during the 1950s and 1960s. During this time, many ethnic groups in the United States were influenced by this music.

The music created by Delta and Chicago blues has a long and interesting history. The one-word answer to this question, which is called rock ’n’ roll, was the term rhythm and blues. Black and white music was popular during the 1950s and 1960s. During this time, many ethnic groups in the United States were influenced by this music.

Registration Team Workers Needed

As registration for the Spring ’85 semester approaches, the Registrar’s Office is seeking new Registration Team Workers. Students hired as part of the Registration Team assist in the mailing of registration materials, processing early registrations, working as runners and aides during In-person registration, and helping the staff of the Registrar’s Office during the hectic days of registration.

To qualify for the Registration Team, students must have sophomore standing, a 2.3 grade point average, and qualify for Baruch Work Study. If you are interested in joining the Registration Team, please contact Ms. Mindy Palace, Assistant to the Registrar, to file an application.
Movie: 2010 — The Odyssey Goes On

In 1968, Stanley Kubrick's "2001: A Space Odyssey" was a seminal work that revolutionized the genre. Now, 32 years later, Peter Hyams' "2010: The Year We Make Contact" has been released, bringing new life to the "2001" series.

"2010" is a sequel to "2001: A Space Odyssey," and it explores the consequences of one of the most iconic films in cinematic history. The new film takes place in the same universe, featuring characters and locations from the original movie. The story follows Dr. Heywood Floyd (Roy Scheider), the astronaut from "2001," as he embarks on a journey to Mars, where he discovers the monolith, a mysterious object that holds the key to humanity's future.

The film delves into themes of science, technology, and the human condition. It raises questions about the nature of consciousness, the role of artificial intelligence, and the limits of human knowledge. "2010" is a thought-provoking exploration of the possibilities of space exploration and the impact of technology on our society.

Despite its high production values and strong acting performances, "2010" received mixed reviews. Some critics praised the film for its visual effects and the performances of its actors, particularly Roy Scheider. However, others felt that the film lacked the emotional depth and philosophical depth of its predecessor. Despite this, "2010" remains a significant work in the "2001" series and continues to captivate audiences with its blend of science fiction and thought-provoking narrative.

SUNDAY LIBRARY HOURS
12 NOON - 4:00 P.M.
Thursday December 1, 8 and 15, 1984
THE LIBRARY WILL BE EXPERIMENTING WITH SUMMER HOURS AT THE END OF THE FALL SEMESTER. FUTURE SUMMER LIBRARY HOURS WILL DEPEND ON STUDENT RESPONSE.
Baruch College's swimming team has gone into extra gear. Under the leadership of coach Frank McNell, the first priority is to have a winning record. McNell said that "it's a tumultuous season with a lot of problems and issues that the team has to deal with." However, the team is determined to overcome the challenges and achieve their goals.

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL SCHEDULE

DATE | OPPONENT | SITE
--- | --- | ---
Jan. 24 | Nauck | Away
Feb. 11 | Midler Evers/Columbia | Home
Feb. 15 | N.Y. Maritime/Lehman | Home
Mar. 7 | USMMA Tournament | Away
Mar. 23 | USAW Tournament | Home
Apr. 6 | Hunter | Home
Mar. 30 | Lehman | Home
May 12 | Queens | Home
May 2 | USMMA Tournament | Away

The Baruch College volleyball team will host the annual Tournament. The tournament will be held on March 25th, at 2 p.m. The winners will advance to the championship round, scheduled for April 6th, at 5 p.m. The team is looking forward to a strong showing in the tournament.

SPORTS TROTTING FOR TURKEYS

Baruch College's sports teams have been working hard to prepare for their upcoming seasons. The men's volleyball team is scheduled to begin their season on Dec. 7th, at home against St. John's University. The women's volleyball team will also be playing their first home game on Dec. 7th, against St. John's University and Pratt. Match time: 7 p.m. The men's volleyball team is looking forward to a strong season.

Hilary R. Weiner, the school's phys. ed. director, said, "The men's volleyball team is looking for a winning record, while the women's volleyball team is looking to have a winning record, but both teams are working hard to achieve their goals." The Baruch College volleyball team is a strong contender in the CUNYAC (Commonwealth Universities and New York City Athletic Conference) league, and they are determined to make a strong showing in the tournament.

The men's soccer team is also working hard to prepare for their upcoming season. Coach John Krochak said, "The men's soccer team is still without a field, which has been a problem for the team. However, we are working hard to find a field, and we are confident that we will have a field for the season." The Baruch College soccer team is determined to make a strong showing in the tournament.

The men's basketball team is also working hard to prepare for their upcoming season. Coach Mike Reade said, "The men's basketball team is looking for a winning record, but we are working hard to achieve our goals." The Baruch College basketball team is determined to make a strong showing in the tournament.

The men's cross-country team is also working hard to prepare for their upcoming season. Coach John Krochak said, "The men's cross-country team is looking for a winning record, but we are working hard to achieve our goals." The Baruch College cross-country team is determined to make a strong showing in the tournament.

The Baruch College sports teams are determined to make a strong showing in the tournament. They are working hard to prepare for their upcoming seasons and are determined to make a strong showing in the tournament. The Baruch College sports teams are confident that they will have a successful season.

The Baruch College sports teams are determined to make a strong showing in the tournament. They are working hard to prepare for their upcoming seasons and are determined to make a strong showing in the tournament. The Baruch College sports teams are confident that they will have a successful season.
Volleyball Team Prepares for Debut

By Orest Mandzy

Boys will beat girls and girls will beat boys. The former was true on Nov. 16th, when the newly-formed men's volleyball team met for the first time. The latter version of this year's 9-12 women's volleyball team.

The match was only a scrimmage between the two teams as the men's team inaugurated their practice season. Their actual season starts on Jan. 24th against Nyack College.

According to the team's coach, Rene Biourd, "I would like to see Baruch have a volleyball team. The team is not an ideal team, although the team is not at its potential full-strength. It is a relatively strong squad. They beat Baruch's women's squad with ease. This was accomplished with the help of a few ineligible players, but it was nevertheless accomplished.

Leading the men's squad is Maurice Correa, a tall, very strong spiker. His spikes are meticulously set by Moses Trullion. Stanley Barbot, the outspoken spokesperson for the squad, begins his stint with the first-year team after his stint with the soccer team. Chi Wong, Dino Rohoman, George Louis-Jacques, Edmund Carrington, and Howard Fleming make up the rest of the prospective team.

The rookie team did not fail to impress their tutors, the women's squad. Pamela Burke, of the women's team, said, "They are excellent individual players." The team, however, is not free from fault. "Their problem is that they don't play together enough," said Burke. Although their individual expertise can overshadow the fact that they play together much like total strangers do, teamwork is essential for the team to play competitively.

This year's team is not as strong as newly-baked bread. They played competitively last year as a club. According to Correa, "We lost more games than we won. But we were good for a club." He added, "Most of the games weren't organized; they were more like practice than like games."

The practice games are over and the club is now a team. Although this year may be the first for the team as a whole, it may be the last for a couple of players. Correa is in his final year of eligibility, as is Carrington. New talent must be found. With this in mind, Barbot said, "We are going to work on the basic skills (during practices), so whoever wants to play and learn should come and play."

Practices are held Wednesdays and Fridays at 5 p.m. at the gym.

Tennis Team Finishes Season on Up-stroke

By Brian Einbloom

1984 was a successful building year for the Baruch Women's Tennis Team. Led by their coach, Dr. William Eng, the fall season was considered a success, even though they fell short of having a winning record.

This season was not a real loss. The players gained valuable experience by playing competitively as a team. Next year should be an improvement over this year's 2-4 record, said Eng.

"I believe we'll be much more competitive next season," said Eng. "I still hope to reach .500. It is quite possible to have a winning record (next year)."

The team opened up the season with a strong 7-2 win against The College of Staten Island. Unfortunately, they sandwiched four losses in between this and their next win, a 7-2 defeat over Lehman College in their final match. Of their four consecutive losses, Eng said Baruch played two of the powerhouses in women's tennis. They lost 8-1 against Hunter and 7-2 to Stony Brook. Baruch was out-matched in experience when compared to these two teams. Both Stony Brook and Hunter made the New York State play-offs.

Baruch has talent, when mixed with the pick-up of experience this year, should make the team competitive in 1985. The team is still looking for new players who can contribute to its success.

The team still practices twice a week even though the season ended over a month ago. Eng said that they plan to play in one or two spring exhibition matches.

"Though we fell short of a winning record," said Eng, "we went beyond my expectations in terms of performance." This was the team's first year in competitive play.

Although the team lacked experience coming into the season, they didn't lack quality players. One of these quality players was Cenia Rivera. "I give her credit," said Eng, "she played consistently and competitively against the best of the other teams. She has good talent, technique, and attitude." He cited her ground strokes as her best asset.

Playing in the 25th Street armory, the team managed to win more games than it lost, winning two and losing one. But on the road, they were 0-3. The road games were all played on outdoor courts.

With the experience of playing one season under their belts, the team's 1985 season, consisting of eight to 10 games, should be a winner.