BOOKS, NOT BULLETS’ DEMAND: CUNY STUDENTS AND FACULTY

By Bryan Fleck

Governor George E. Pataki, in his State Executive Budget, has proposed a restructuring of the Tuition Assistance Program which would shave $133 million in tax revenue, reducing funding from $634.1 million to $501.1 million.

Under Pataki’s plan, in order to receive TAP a student would have to complete 15 credits per semester as opposed to the current requirement of 12. A student who fails to complete or pass 15 credits will incur a 20 percent penalty on their TAP payment.

The proposal is currently being argued in the State Senate and State Assembly in Albany. According to Helen M. Marshall, chairwoman for the Committee on Higher Education, the measure will not pass in the Assembly.

In a letter to students, Edward Sullivan, chairman of the New York State Assembly Higher Education Committee, expressed his resolve not to let the proposal pass. “[Pataki] is asking the poorest students in the State and City Universities to pay an additional $310 a year to attend college,” Sullivan said.

Marshall sees Pataki’s restructuring clearly as a cut in the TAP program. “If it walks like a duck, talks like a duck, it’s a duck,” Marshall said. “This is a cut in TAP. That’s disgraceful.”

Kevin Quinn, spokesman for the State Division of the Budget, spoke for Pataki. “The governor’s proposed TAP changes will encourage students to get an education in a timely manner,” said Quinn. “We believe that students should be able to take 15 credits if they expect state-funded assistance.”

However, Marshall noted that many CUNY students have to work while getting their education. “TAP was for those students in dire situations so they could receive an education,” said Marshall. “Once you put tuition in, you have to have TAP. Tuition was imposed on CUNY students in 1976.”

In the governor’s budget proposal, it is stated that fewer than two out of every five CUNY students have to work while getting their education. Nearly 60 percent are employed, whereas the average at New York University is 23 percent and at the State University of New York is 26 percent.

A representative from the admissions office at New York University said that most classes at NYU are four credits, and therefore a 15-credit requirement would not have as drastic an impact as it would at CUNY, where most classes count for three credits.

In addition, Pataki has proposed adjusting the way TAP awards are evaluated. “[Pataki] is trying to base TAP payments on Adjusted Gross Income rather than Net Taxable Income, a switch that could cost a middle income student several hundred dollars in TAP aid,” said Sullivan.

According to Christoph M. Kimmich, interim chancellor of CUNY, Pataki’s proposed changes in TAP are “awful,” said McCall. “It’s very punitive against the students.”

McCall is confident, however, that the proposed changes to TAP will be restored. “It’s basically putting in a tuition increase without actually calling it a tuition increase,” she said. “If the State Assembly is seeking to restore $48.3 million to CUNY senior colleges, while the Senate is willing to replace $32.9 million of Pataki’s proposed cuts. The two bills will go to the Higher Education Committee.”

“We’re hopeful that the Assembly and the Senate agrees that it is important that TAP be restructured in a way to encourage students to complete their degrees in a timely manner,” said Quinn, speaking on behalf of Pataki.

In addition to the larger cuts, the Assembly wishes to not only restore, but also to increase ways and means committee. “Opportunity, after all, is what you fund.”

Cecilia McCall, a professor in Baruch’s English department, will be traveling to Albany on Wednesday, April 13 to lobby against the proposal. “I think [the proposed changes in TAP are] awful,” said McCall. “It’s very punitive against the students.”

The State Assembly is seeking to restore $48.3 million to CUNY senior colleges, while the Senate is willing to replace $32.9 million of Pataki’s proposed cuts. The two bills will go to the Higher Education Committee.

“We’re hopeful that the Assembly and the Senate agrees that it is important that TAP be restructured in a way to encourage students to complete their degrees in a timely manner,” said Quinn, speaking on behalf of Pataki.

In addition to the larger cuts, the Assembly wishes to not only restore, but also to increase.

Continued on Page 5
TICKER NEWS APRL 14, 1999

Overwhelmed by Rising Demand, CIS Dept. Gives Minimum Solutions

By Jean-Jose More Managing editor

As the demand for computer courses continues to rise, lecturers and administrators are finding it increasingly difficult to keep up with the rising demand for courses in computer science. The situation is made worse by the fact that the number of faculty members available to teach these courses is not keeping pace with the student enrollment.

The problem is not unique to the CIS department. Many other departments, especially those in the arts and humanities, are also experiencing similar difficulties. The situation is made worse by the fact that many of the faculty members who are available are already overworked and are unable to take on additional courses.

The university administration is aware of the problem and is taking steps to address it. The administration is considering increasing the number of faculty members in the CIS department and other departments. However, this is a long-term solution and it will take time to implement.

In the meantime, the administration is trying to find ways to meet the increasing demand for courses. One option is to hire additional lecturers on a temporary basis. Another option is to increase the number of courses offered in each semester.

The administration is also considering the possibility of offering online courses. This would allow more students to take courses and would help to alleviate the pressure on the faculty members.

The administration is aware that these are only temporary solutions and that a long-term solution is needed. The administration is committed to finding a solution that will allow the university to meet the increasing demand for courses.

TICKER NEWS APRL 14, 1999

Nation Wide

Fee Dispute

The Supreme Court will decide if state public institutions are required to pay student activity fees which support student activity clubs and organizations. The court will also decide if the fees are a form of direct taxation.

The case involves a dispute between the state of New York and the State University of New York. The state of New York charges student activity fees, which are used to support student activity clubs and organizations. The State University of New York argues that the fees are a form of direct taxation and are therefore unconstitutional.

The Supreme Court is expected to rule on the case in the near future.
Center Holds Suicide Workshop After Death of Honor Student

By Shan-su Wu News Editor

More than 10 students and faculty gathered in room Four South of the 17 Lexington Ave building on March 18 to listen to a panel of faculty and administration discuss the topic of suicide during a town meeting hosted by the Baruch Counseling Center. The meeting is in response to the recent death and possible suicide and to help students identify potential suicide risks, cope with feelings of depression and anxiety, and introduce them to resources that they are helpful in Baruch.

"People have come today for results," said Dr. Daniel Chang, director of the counseling center. "With all the events which have occurred at Baruch, students are experiencing a lot of stress.

Students attending the meeting were given handouts prepared by the counseling center on how to handle emergencies, situations and classes of depression, and how to deal with suicidal ideation. "There is a goal in the meeting. We want to present these resources to those who need it."

Statistics presented at the meeting showed that spring is the peak season for suicide attempts.

"We want to de-emphasize the dramatic concern," said counseling center representative Dr. Lydia Ford. "When suicidal ideation is present there is an emphasis on suicide attempts."

"The one thing that bothers me is what counseling efforts are. It is often communication, faculty and staff, in the administration, who need to help for their problems. "The common thread is that we need to give them the means of understanding their relationships and schools, there actually is a problem," said Dr. Chang. "It is okay to have problems; it's okay to deal with them.

"The bottom line is that the counseling center is a resource," said Dr. Chang. "There are certain benefits to the school environment and there are certain limitations. We need to increase funding for counseling services and promote what the counselors would be ferroring.

"We need resources and we have to fight harder for them."

The effect of being primarily a commuter school or something was also addressed by panelists. "Recent events have been a wake-up call," said Vice President of Student Development Dr. Ivan Heyman. "(Baruch) students are a very, very unique group," said Dr. Walter Reichman, president of the Interim Baruch College Chemistry professor. "We as a Baruch community are concerned and we want to be a support for each other."

Students attending the meeting were given handouts prepared by the counseling center on how to handle emergencies, situations and classes of depression, and how to deal with suicidal ideation. "There is a goal in the meeting. We want to present these resources to those who need it."
CIS Students Give Anonymous Complaints

By Hansan Wu

Undergraduate and graduate students enrolled in the Computer Information Systems programs here at Baruch are more than willing to talk about the program. The problem? They are unwilling to give their names.

"I don't want my professor to know," said one. "I feel intimidated," said Thomas, a CIS junior who declined to give his last name. "I don't feel like I'm being heard," said another.

The implication is that in the sample of students interviewed for this study, the number of suggestions for improvement far outnumbered the number of students willing to give his name.

"It is hard to get classes and we people filling behind them in all the classes," said Hwan-joo MOOD, a CIS junior who asked only to be identified by his initials, voiced similar concerns. "I feel that professors are giving us the cold shoulder." He was one of the few students interviewed who gave his name.

For example, the percentage of classes taken out of sequence often found that the classes taken as an immediate prerequisite for the second class are often the most difficult, according to statistics available from the CIS major.

According to the CIS department, a significant number of students are enrolled in incorrect classes and those who are not in the major at the same time have less money from the department in addition to their academic responsibilities.

"I was nearly given a failing grade," said one. "I was nearly given a failing grade," said another.

"I can't get into classes, and I'm going to graduate late because of that," said Punzalan, a CIS junior and one of the few students willing to give his last name. "There isn't running available at all.

"I can't get into classes, and I'm going to graduate late because of that," said Punzalan, a CIS junior and one of the few students willing to give his last name. "There isn't running available at all.

"I can't get into classes, and I'm going to grade late because of that," said Punzalan, a CIS junior and one of the few students willing to give his last name. "There isn't running available at all.

Students were equally inclined to examine the administering faculty mentality. The faculty members were often perceived as being more difficult because of the sometimes spotty classroom performance.

"If I can't get into a class that I'm interested in, then I'm going to have to take a whole year to take the second part," said Lin. "If I can't get into a class that I'm interested in, then I'm going to have to take a whole year to take the second part," said Lin. "If I can't get into a class that I'm interested in, then I'm going to have to take a whole year to take the second part," said Lin.

"I don't feel like I'm being heard," said Thomas, a CIS junior who declined to give his last name. "I don't feel like I'm being heard," said Thomas, a CIS junior who declined to give his last name. "I don't feel like I'm being heard," said Thomas, a CIS junior who declined to give his last name.

"I can't get into classes, and I'm going to graduate late because of that," said Punzalan, a CIS junior and one of the few students willing to give his last name. "There isn't running available at all.

"I can't get into classes, and I'm going to graduate late because of that," said Punzalan, a CIS junior and one of the few students willing to give his last name. "There isn't running available at all.

"I can't get into classes, and I'm going to grade late because of that," said Punzalan, a CIS junior and one of the few students willing to give his last name. "There isn't running available at all.

"If I can't get into a class that I'm interested in, then I'm going to have to take a whole year to take the second part," said Lin. "If I can't get into a class that I'm interested in, then I'm going to have to take a whole year to take the second part," said Lin. "If I can't get into a class that I'm interested in, then I'm going to have to take a whole year to take the second part," said Lin.
The Baruch College Chapter will soon hold a Charity Raffle to benefit the Kosovo Refugees who are displaced due to the turmoil in the Balkans. Look out for these Raffle Tickets and contribute to help those who do not have a home anymore.

Inquiring Photographer

By Julie Mac Dejille
Photographer

Question: What is the worst lie that your boyfriend ever told you?

Kamila Rodriguez
Freshman, Undeclared

Our summerScreenshot broke into my home, broke into the house and the girl placed my phone on the television. I was absolutely appalled. I think about my boyfriend if he had broken into my house, he would die.

Carolina Engel
Sophomore, Undeclared

The worst lie my ex-boyfriend told me was that he had a love affair, and he came back to me and said "I love you," and he didn't.

Sugy Rosario
Sophomore, Liberal Arts

A month before our two-year anniversary, I broke up with my boyfriend. He went away to Europe, and I told my his girlfriend that my boyfriend, the world, we'll forgive him. For our second year anniversary, he bought me flowers, took me to a very expensive restaurant and sang for me. Two weeks after, he told me "Babe, I just can't be with you anymore. I'm seeing somebody else."

Mermot Areztheta
Senior, Biology

The worst lie my ex-boyfriend ever told me was that he was babysitting his little niece, but in reality it was his daughter.
Young Professionals Career Lunch

Thursday April 22, 1999
12:30-2:00 pm
OPEN HOUSE & CAREER LUNCH
Held at 135 East 22nd Street, Room 307
Note special time: during club hours!

Henry Wollman, Director of the Steven L. Newman Real Estate Institute will host a roundtable discussion about
REAL ESTATE DEVELOPMENT
Newman Institute Young Professionals Career Evenings
A series of eight monthly hour-long presentations and discussions, over sandwiches and sodas, with young leaders of the real estate industry in New York. These evenings are especially planned for Baruch/Newman Institute students considering careers in real estate. Each presentation highlights a different component of the metropolitan area's real estate industry.

• Learn about different kinds of real estate jobs
• Ask questions about what you would be doing on the day you start work
• Meet both recent college graduates and the prime young leadership of the real estate industry

YOUNG PROFESSIONALS CAREER EVENINGS
Monthly
5:30-7:00 pm September 1998 - May 1999

Watch for dates on each month’s poster announcement
For reservations and to RSVP
Contact Sara Hil ska at 802-5940

The STEVEN L. NEWMAN
REAL ESTATE INSTITUTE

Bombs Over Belgrade

As The U.S. and Its Allies Wage War Overseas, Local Albanians Stand Behind NATO

By Morten Saba
(Stringing Writer)

I NATO bombs in Kosovo. The annual Albanian-American action in NATO's nothing on Sunday might have been more
After the bombing had started, many Albanians couldn't get in touch with their families in Kosovo, and those who spoke to them heard from the situation was getting worse. Yet, Albanian-Americans said that the world was better for Albanians in Kosovo. The satellite pictures of the bombings have been shown on CNN.

Albanian-Americans know that the Liberator Operation was planned way before the bombing began, and Sarajevo would have done it sooner.

This ought to set Serbs back for at least 10 years," says Nagez Bilelka, a Kosovar
The police would have taken
Albanian family of seven in Kosovo.
Roula, agrees with the NATO bombing strategy, but even though the bombing started Wednesday, March 23, 1999, he hasn't heard from his family. He knew that they house language was not even taught in
Albanian language was not even taught in Both parties have been able to
Albanian language was not even taught in
Albanian language was not even taught in
Albanian language was not even taught in
Albanian language was not even taught in
Albanian language was not even taught in
Albanian language was not even taught in
Albanian language was not even taught in
Albanian language was not even taught in
Albanian language was not even taught in
Albanian language was not even taught in
...
Part II - Continued from Last Issue

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end

The Internet is a grueling task. The Chinese government has done its best to maintain the information on the Internet. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.

The suppression of political thought and the persecution of dissident opinion must come to an end. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet. The Internet is a grueling task. They have not only arrested people, but have also arrested and-known personalities on the Internet.
LACK OF PROFESSIONALISM CATCHES UP TO SECURITY

Students have been doing their share of complaining as of late when it comes to security on campus. Many students have heard of the possible changes that Blackman has been working on, but what they don’t know is that the Security Department has been on constant alert since the beginning of the semester.

There have been numerous situations concerning what security officers do at Baruch. One such case is the death of Yankun Huang, who fell to her death from the 13th floor of the Sports Pavilion. The Security Department allegedly reported the incident to security. However, after a quick search, there was no trace of Yankun. Many are wondering if it was just a little peculiar that security, with all their training, could not find Yankun after searching Baruch’s own premises for four days.

Our editors also found this to be odd and confronted security officials about this. Security Director Steven Blackman, Will 20, Section 20 of the UC Code, Title 5, Section 506(a) mandates participation in any program under this title if the college or university police or security department of any kind shall make, keep, and maintain a record, written in a form that can be easily understood, recording all crimes reported to each police or security department, including the nature, date, time and general location of each crime. These reports should be open to the public within two days of the actual occurrence. If the case is over one year old, the report must be left with the University Security office at least 60 days before the student’s graduation.

Essentially, Baruch is practicing policies that are in place if the College can’t accommodate the CIS students they already have, or if the College can’t accommodate the CIS students they will have. It is up to the administration and the security department to respond to the problem.

There has been a lot of concern and complaints about security on campus. Many students have felt a lack of accountability when it comes to their own safety.

The Demise of Public Education in NY

As the School Committee goes to press, we are in hopes of receiving standards for civic education. By passing a resolution at CAPA's open meeting yesterday, the Senate approved a resolution that calls for a state-wide system of education. The administration and the Board of Trustees are expected to respond to the resolution when they meet next month.

By proposing to establish a CAPA committee required by the Act, the Senate provides the means to ensure that the responsibilities of the UCB administration and the Board of Trustees are met in a timely and efficient manner. The recommendation of the CAPA committee will provide the basis for the development of a state-wide system of education.

The recommendation of the CAPA committee is expected to focus on the development of a comprehensive, state-wide system of education. The recommendation will be presented to the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees will consider the recommendation and make decisions about the implementation of the recommendation.

The Ticker accepts only.

In the interest of "raising your consciousness," we didn't know that in order to get an education, it meant becoming super-human.

The Other Side of The Story...

"The Guy Who doesn't Complain"

Baruch Students Up in Arms Over Former Observer Staff

"Syd Blackburn? That you, the one with the big ass?" we didn’t know that until last week, but now we can see you every time you walk across campus. That’s not important, though. The important thing is that we’re all in arms over the dismissal of the Observer’s staff.

This is a letter in support of Linda Johnson’s and Mike Yankun’s work. We support what they have done and we believe that they have been great to us in the past.

The Demise of Public Education in NY...

By proposing to establish a CAPA committee required by the Act, the Senate provides the means to ensure that the responsibilities of the UCB administration and the Board of Trustees are met in a timely and efficient manner. The recommendation of the CAPA committee will provide the basis for the development of a state-wide system of education.

The recommendation of the CAPA committee is expected to focus on the development of a comprehensive, state-wide system of education. The recommendation will be presented to the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees will consider the recommendation and make decisions about the implementation of the recommendation.

The Ticker accepts only.

In the interest of "raising your consciousness," we didn't know that in order to get an education, it meant becoming super-human.

The Other Side of The Story...

"The Guy Who doesn’t Complain"

Baruch Students Up in Arms Over Former Observer Staff

"Syd Blackburn? That you, the one with the big ass?" we didn’t know that until last week, but now we can see you every time you walk across campus. That’s not important, though. The important thing is that we’re all in arms over the dismissal of the Observer’s staff.

This is a letter in support of Linda Johnson’s and Mike Yankun’s work. We support what they have done and we believe that they have been great to us in the past.

The Demise of Public Education in NY...

By proposing to establish a CAPA committee required by the Act, the Senate provides the means to ensure that the responsibilities of the UCB administration and the Board of Trustees are met in a timely and efficient manner. The recommendation of the CAPA committee will provide the basis for the development of a state-wide system of education.

The recommendation of the CAPA committee is expected to focus on the development of a comprehensive, state-wide system of education. The recommendation will be presented to the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees will consider the recommendation and make decisions about the implementation of the recommendation.

The Ticker accepts only.

In the interest of "raising your consciousness," we didn't know that in order to get an education, it meant becoming super-human.
For all the times you got stuck with the bill, here's payback.

PLANNING TO ATTEND THE 1999 COMMENCEMENT?

DEADLINE EXTENDED: FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1999

Contact: BARUCH COLLEGE

GRADUATION ELIGIBILITY: You must file an APPLICATION FOR DEGREE form with the Registrar's Office in your final semester in order to be eligible to graduate and to be included in the commencement program.
ICONS OF INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION

An exhibit of Precisionist prints

By Vanessa Singh

Art Editor

The crisp, simplistic, and precise imagery of Precisionism was the dominant style in art during the twenties when the American economy was booming and technological innovation enabled ‘industry’ to expand at an extraordinary rate. The advent of these man-made creations added the creative force of many artists, inspiring them to turn to the mechanical medium of printmaking to express their artistic visions of the industrial era. The images created were sleek, geometric, and spaces were dominated by the presence of humanity’s artificial creations.

Most of the prints on exhibit at the gallery, were completely devoid of the human presence or some implied humanity’s creations as abberations or atrocities but instead, reflected the grand spacious works dominated by the presence of humanity’s artificial creations.

The title of this album fairly sums up the entire music of the band. The crisp, simplistic, and precise imagery of Precisionism was the dominant style in art during the twenties when the American economy was booming and technological innovation enabled ‘industry’ to expand at an extraordinary rate. The advent of these man-made creations added the creative force of many artists, inspiring them to turn to the mechanical medium of printmaking to express their artistic visions of the industrial era. The images created were sleek, geometric, and spaces were dominated by the presence of humanity’s artificial creations.

Most of the prints on exhibit at the gallery, were completely devoid of the human presence or some implied humanity’s creations as abberations or atrocities but instead, reflected the grand spacious works dominated by the presence of humanity’s artificial creations.
Just then, a broken droid picks up his firearm and fires. Reno at a numerous rate! As GK got used to his super speed, he created a tornado wind to take out the barriers. Reno: Veronna, you and Karlo just hide behind a car while we did all the work.

Karlo: Now you know why you guys are the best.

Then all of the sudden there were sounds of bombings from around the corner.

Aleman of Carl: I... what the hell was that?

Then all of the sudden they are surrounded with... things.

Reno: Was it good for you too?

As Reno slowly wakes up from his concussion, he finds

Hey do you know if the ( ) still have a Daily Frogs near the office?

Janka: Rich! Look out behind you!

Rich: (breath) Cool!

The Rage: Carrie 2

KINKS

The real price of success is hard work, temporary failure, ( ) which has been an example to me even before the ( ) ever starts. If you truly believe that success is not a way to become ( ) or ( ) or ( ) and not to be the same as everyone else, you can be one of the greatest ( )

Cher: Cher's Greatest Hits

Dave Davies: Unfinished Business

Prolog: The Dirchthouse Sessions Volume I

Morton Kambl introduced me to some good jacks music should be there. Then, when listening to the ( ) style music, he understood the ( ) meaning of that ( ) music and also the ( ) meaning of the ( ) music. And I have great feelings for the ( ) feelings in which they also wish to send the ( ) with some entertainers and a ( ) to ( ) and ( ) to show ( ) and make that ( ) a great performance. I announced this film to everyone as it is amazing to me that love and love is a great move, end to follow, and it moves that will be not easily forgotten.
20 Dates

by Tony Blah
Contributing Writer

myths beheld the secret marketing at the very prestigious Wharton School of Business of the University of Pennsylvania, why she decided to be in the Ivy-schooled attorneys to film-making in any case. But if his better films died, 20 Dates is not indicative of his movie ingenuity, he made the right choice. 20 Dates chronicles the real-life story of, myths and his quest for true love, essentially a love story. The film is filled with mopping story the camera never bothers him. As he was on his 20th, 20 Dates, sono a film painting with originality against the overdeveloped, glossy, bubble-wrap world of Hollywood, when a person dies on the screen. The concept seems to be a certain realism; through the music of the story, the music seems to be the only one in the world. Although the song was barely noticeable, you could still say it was a shame, it was a very insightful film nonetheless, yet we were granted the opportunity to part into some scenes as they are living through the 20 Dates world. Walking rhythms without the driving components of the music, helps us understand ourselves a little better; most of us could and did end relating to myths we get from these films or so. A good reason to watch this film to take notice in WHAT NOT TO DO on a first date but a different twist involving myths and his quest for true love. One of his 20 Dates actually fail in love! that became a success; because she wasn’t the consistent one now, myths is in love with the drive of stepping on another person’s life and the fast way that his producer did a film like this. It’s not that myths could remember them but that they were so explosive, so the music is still intact, but I think he’s done the same thing again this time, and we might; if they would like to be the only question is, how did the countercozy woman get to go out with him? In the end, he’d be engaged to Elizabeth as well.

The Unbelievable Truth: Almost Here

by Kit Carson
Contributing Writer

Taken from the family album, ANYONE, lead singer of THE STIGGITY STIGGITY, has been described as a British pop band on soft rock, they want me to perform anal sex, and when I do it hurts like hell! Please, I need some advice on how to perform this right.

WET LUBE. It’s water-based and VERY nice. TQ tell you the truth, I think he’s dismissive of women to go out with, he’s not really sure of himself. They don’t really capture those women, so I guess he did his job.

Bregaff: If it hurts you, why do it? I am adamantly opposed to anal sex. That’s all I have to say.
Dear Reader,

The issue you hold in your hands is the first weekly issue of The Ticker in over three decades. Thank you for making this possible. It is your continued interest and support that makes us a success.

But we’re not resting on our laurels. We’ve hired new staff to find out what you want and make sure it’s in The Ticker. We’ve improved our look and it’s going to get even better. We’ve made a commitment to be the best student newspaper in the city, and with your help we will.

There is one thing you have to do. Yes, even here you get homework.

Tell us what you want to read.

Our email addresses are listed in The Ticker. Email us. Call us. Grab us in the hallway. The Ticker is your newspaper. We are your voice. Without you we have nothing to say.

We hope you have enjoyed this issue of The Ticker. See you next week.