Interim President Lirtzman Holds Court At General Faculty Meeting

By Hubert Reyes
Ticker Contributing Writer

As much as the president would like to keep things running smoothly, a few bumps in the road inevitably pop up.

Baruch’s lease on certain floors at the 18th street building and the 360 PAS building are about to expire. With the loss of the lease, Baruch will lose the 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th and 19th floors in the 18th street building. To counter this loss the school has acquired the site of the former SUNY School of Optometry at 315 PAS. Movement into this new building can begin as early as the summer of 2001. Floors that will be lost at the 360 PAS building will be the first to move into the new building, according to Lirtzman. Those floors lost at 18th street, including the Baruch Campus High School, will follow shortly thereafter.

In addition, Lirtzman suggested that a larger health facility will be set up in the new building. A smaller facility is scheduled to open on the first floor of the 360 PAS building by the end of November, according to Lirtzman.

The president briefly touched on the issue of the trouble some transfer students have once they begin their education at Baruch. Lirtzman announced that beginning next year the GPA requirement was 2.0. Lirtzman hopes that with tougher requirements transfer students will be able to succeed at Baruch.

The president also spoke about a plan that would have students attend community colleges in order to meet the necessary requirements to move on to a senior college. All of the senior colleges in the CUNY system will pair up with a community college in order to get this plan under way. Baruch’s designated partner, based on proximity, will be BMCC.

Novia Gayle, a lower senator for the Undergraduate Student Government, spoke about the unfortunate number of suicides that have plagued Baruch over the last year. In her speech, Gayle asked the faculty to become more involved with their students. She encouraged them to open up to their students, to be more approachable and friendly. According to Gayle, it would be helpful to the students if teachers would take time to help the students understand material by having more review sessions. She stressed to the faculty that they are "not only teachers but leaders and role models."

Interim President Sidney L. Litzman addressed a variety of issues while speaking in front of faculty at the semester’s first general meeting.
Badillo Apologies Are Not Enough For Some CUNY Students

The key is to start saving now. The system now works, according to Badillo. Rodriguez, national coordinator of Dominicans to Miami to New York: "He has to go." Badillo should be educated and sensitive to the needs of Badillo’s acknowledging that his stance on the student’s...

Lately in the evening, Evie Tvantey, the young man and I walked by a window on our street. Tvantey and the young man sat in a high chair. But Tvantey, I knew, was not the one who sat in a high chair. It is the philosophical belief that every event in the inevitable result of preceding events and actions

For many situations, it has been considered a “law” by religious people. This makes sense since one cannot believe another for the sake of “Deity’s true.” The religious believe it true because they believe in God, who is the force or energy of a spiritual world and its personal existence. Thus, in principle, every event or action can be some-}

The Beautiful Island of Jamaica

By Yvonne Thomas

Jamaica is one of the most beautiful and popular islands in the Caribbean. The island's original name was probably Xolalapan, a word used by some of the original indigenous peoples, the Arawak Indians, to mean "land of water and water." A tropical island, its beauty is not only in the island itself, but in its marine waters and the people. Jamaica has a diverse range of flora and fauna, and the people are friendly and welcoming. The island's cultural influences include African, European, and Asian, which has resulted in a unique blend of music, food, and language. The island's most popular activities include hiking, snorkeling, and beachcombing, which can be enjoyed year-round. The island is also known for its delicious food, which is a blend of African, European, and Asian influences. Jamaica is definitely more than just a vacation destination.

The Jamaican dialect is one that many try to imitate. Jamaicans speak English, but incorporate various Caribbean creole words into their speech. The dialect is characterized by its use of words like "yankee," "no go," and "what ah gwan?" which are common in Jamaica. The Jamaican dialect is one that many try to imitate, but only a few can do it properly.

The Jamaican culture is also known for its music, which includes reggae, soco, and dancehall. The island's most famous musician is Bob Marley, who is considered the father of reggae music. His music has had a significant impact on the world of music, and his legacy continues to influence artists today. Jamaica is also known for its food, which includes ackee and saltfish, a dish made from the ackee fruit and saltfish. It is one of the island's most popular dishes, and can be found in most restaurants.

We the students of Baruch College, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Love, insure Peace, provide for the common Education, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Freedom to ourselves and to posterity, do ordain and establish this following:

Whereas, people are who we are?

It would seem for the purpose of gathering the information we think is necessary to enhance our lives in the future.

Now, where is that information gathered from? While some would sturdily keep their noses in overpriced books and get hand cramps in class scribbling illegible notes, countless other learning opportunities are missed.

Let's talk about that student fellow who meet you in the hallway and see again in class and again in the elevator. What have you learned about yourself?

The redundant message attempting to be proclaimed here is knowledge. No, these words on this page don't assume to be able to impart any truth to you, a sentient being. Yet heed the advice. Yes, it's heard before, but have you listened? Understand who you are and what you are. You may find this too metophoric for the average college student (they finance majors) but it is not that complex.

The radio and television, where is he going to do what his or her ego wants just because he or she is wearing an ugly blue uniform, what have you learned about yourself?

Study Reveals Ping Pong Players Have Most Sex

Members of an eCircle dedicated to the study of human sexuality are about to release a report claiming that ping pong players have a sexier life than non-players. "It’s fascinating," said Bill Thomas, Professor of Sexology at Harvard Tech. "Simply put, ping pong enthusiasts do it more than the rest of us."

Professor Bryant’s eCircle includes sexually experts from all 6th states, as well as Madagascar. Over the past 2 months, the scholars have been sharing scores of data in their Circle, including statistics, one-on-one interviews and photos.

"When the results of our study came in, we all just kind of slapped our hands on our foreheads and said ‘sh*t’. Bryant recalled. Traditionally, the Chinese have dominated international ping pong competitions, but that is no longer the case."

Professor Bryant went on to say that the group still doesn’t know what it is about ping pong that promotes copious amounts of sex. "We suspect the fast pace of the game gets the blood pumping, and players need an

STATESWOMEN ARE HUDSON VALLEY CHAMPIONS

BUT COME UP A MATCH SHORT IN CUNY CHAMPIONSHIP

By Kenyatta Pious
Sports Editor

As I predicted, the women's volleyball team made it to the CUNY championship! As I am now completely retired, it would have perhaps been the case that the team was going to win it all. Instead, after third seeded Baruch defeated sixth seeded Brooklyn College in three games and second seeded Lehman College in four games, I was confident that the Stateswomen would win it all even against returning champion, Hunter College.

Unfortunately, for Baruch, Hunter is much like a very highly esteemed Baruch cheerleader in that Hunter does not lose! A very cocky Hunter won the 1999 CUNY Athletic Conference Women's Volleyball Championship on its home court to earn its first-ever automatic bid to the NCAA Division III Championships. The Hawks routed Baruch College 15-4, 15-6, 15-9 in the final, winning Hunter's fourth straight title and 13th in 15 seasons.

A slew of awards went to Hunter: Anna Wrobleswka was named Most Valuable Player for the second time in row and Player of the Year, Lauren Caciaccia, was named Coach of the Year, and Jezel Rodriguez was named Rookie of the Year though many felt Rodriguez deserved a break, and even though he has got ten plenty, it was nice to see him up there.

The Stateswomen are Hudson Valley Champions!! Hudson Valley is a post season tournament that CUNY teams can qualify for 1999 Hudson Valley champions!! Hudson Valley is a post season tournament that CUNY teams can qualify for.

Baruch defeated Pratt Institute in the first round and Lehman in the semifinal round. The Stateswomen played the college of Mt. St. Vincent's in the championship match. After losing the first game 13-15, Baruch would pick up tempo and win the next three 16-14, 15-8, 15-8.

Carla Pimentel and Marianna Papadopoulo were named to the All-Tournament team. Graduating senior, Carla Pimentel, was named as the Most Valuable Player. All things considered, Baruch has nothing to cry about for losing in the CUNYS, instead, the team can already begin to look forward to next year. Hunter is a dynasty right now but the greater truth about all dynasties is that they all must crumble! Moreover, the Stateswomen are only losing two players to graduation: Carla Pimentel and Pri-Loung Long. Lastly, we thank the fan for a most entertaining season and we wish the graduating seniors good luck on all their endeavors. I wish to personally thank all those who came to the games and supported our team! Note: at pretime there have been no pictures developed with the Stateswomen holding their trophies, please stay tuned.

Welcome back. I am a happy New Yorker as the New York Yankees won another World Series, making quick work of the Atlanta Braves. Take that Rocker.

The parade was very emotional as Darryl Strawberry broke-in tears over the struggles he overcame to make it this far. Everyone feels of an actual TV game. Instant replays are real, and the plays are amazing.

The fact of the matter is, that it is wrong and even worse. I don't care how much this angle strikes the same place twice. Baltimore.

If you don't like it, tough. Don't interrupt the growth of your column.

I just got a new game for the Sega Dreamcast called NHL 2K from Sega Sports that is exactly like the TV. I started it up, and played as the New York Jets. The gameplay is phenomenal. The players look realistic and the plays are amazing. The gameplay is fluid and fast, and it has the feel of an actual TV game. Instant replays are shown of the great plays and you can get a close-up look at those bone crunching tackles that will make you cringe in pain. After every touchdown, there is a scoring summary, and announcers describe the action on every single play, never falling behind the action, and always sounding like they have something new to talk about.

The game was amazing. The Jets played just like the Jets. They won the first game with great passing, beating the Patriots in submission. One distracting point came when scoring updates were shown on the bottom of the screen along with ads for future Sega games (great marketing idea). I found that to be cool, that I was reading the score while my quarterback was sacked. Shouldn't have been distracted, but it really is cool to see that.

I was back for defense and I have been called for almost every penalty I could be called for. Still, the game is rather easy to learn and fun to play. I enjoyed the announcing, the gameplay, and the fast loading times. I enjoy even more the fact that I can create my own team completely with logo, my own fantasy league, my own players and my own diet.

Well that's about all the time I have. I have got to play some more Dreamcast. I love this game.

Latter.

On a very bright note, the Stateswomen are back to 1996. Baruch was overwhelmed by Hunter. The Stateswomen made a few careless mistakes, but they are a dynasty and I am proud of my team. I think that we played five matches in a span of two days may have contributed to our performance against Hunter.

The Stateswomen were playing the CUNY tournament at the same time which is usually not the case. All States were named as CUNYAC All-Stars: Rebecca Matis, Marianna unchecked.
