Diallo Trial Verdict Sparks Protest

By Vanessa Singh
Executive Editor

On the day after the four officers who shot Amadou Diallo were acquitted of all charges, thousands of protesters rallied around 59th St. and 5th Av. to show their anger over the trial proceedings and the verdict.

Hearng signs and banners, beating drums and chanting as they marched, some protesters headed downtown as the crowd dispersed. In smaller groups, they streamed towards City Hall. The cops outnumbered the large crowd of protesters gathered near the northwest corner of Bryant Park.

Although many of the protesters spoke at intervals, one woman in particular grabbed the attention of the crowd. "How can you kiss your baby goodnight knowing that you've killed somebody else's?" the woman asked the police officers standing a few feet from her on the curb. She stared hard at the Caucasian faces in the crowd, declaring that white people are the cause of the trial's outcome. She also touched on how black people fed into the process.

Some Baruch students are passionate about the case as well and expressed their views.

Women leads cry against cops during Rally at Bryant Park. Protesters vent their anger at the outcome of the Diallo Trial on Feb. 26. (Photo/ Vanessa Singh)

Expanding Leases Cause for Concern

By Eliana Sussman
Coordinating Editor

Baruch will lose valuable space if it does not find a new building by the time its leases are up. If this happens, two of the buildings will soon have to be evacuated.

"Space is our most critical resource," said Karl Schmid, the assistant vice president of Campus Facilities and Operations. "There is no vacant space on campus."

Most seemed apathetic to the lack of space problem. "It doesn't concern me," said one administrator. "There are too many people to teach here in a single space."

Professors Debate Ethnic Hiring and Promotion

By Maaiotie Jean-Francois
News Editor

In recent weeks, a three-part series on the hiring of Black, Latino and Asian professors has sought to report on the progress of the recruitment process. The College's Institutional Self-Study Report declared that only 14 percent of its faculty and managerial staff are Black, Latino, Asian or of another ethnic group. That percentage is only 6 percent higher than the it was in 1990. The research yielded two separate viewpoints: Most administrators in charge of hiring insisted that there is not enough people of color to fill the available positions.

Professor John Todd, chair of the English department, is one of many administrators who attribute the lack of non-white faculty on the English department. "We hire people who are going to fit into the department," said Todd. "We want to have authorities teaching our students." As the small number who are qualified enough to teach here, many administrators who attribute the lack of non-white faculty on the English department. "We hire people who are going to fit into the department," said Todd. "We want to have authorities teaching our students." As the small number who are qualified enough to teach here, this is also touched on how black people fed into the process.

Baruch Statesmen Take CUNY Championship!

Baruch Statesmen huddle during Feb. 25th CUNY championship game at College of Staten Island. The Statesmen defeated York College in nailbiter. (Photo/ Julia Ditt)

---

Deadlines For USG Elections Approaching

By Adam Ostaszewski
Coordinating Editor

Baruch's second annual Undergraduate Student Government elections are quickly approaching. USG is the result of last year's union of the two previously separate day and evening student governments. Last spring, the current government was the first to be elected. Although the elections are scheduled for Apr. 10-13, preparation is already under way as candidates begin to get ready. Declaring of Candidacy Forms have been available in the Office of Student Life (360 PAS - suite 1521) since Feb. 15. Besides the forms, these opportunities provide detailed information on deadlines, procedures, eligibility and campaigning. The information is also posted on the web at www.scsu.baruch.cuny.edu.

As the main requirement of the Candidacy Form, potential candidates are required to collect 20 undergraduate student signatures to appear on the ballot. A platform statement optional. Candidacy forms, petitions and platforms are currently being accepted. March 9 is also the deadline to turn them in. March 9 is also the deadline for filing any proposed referendum. All referenda must be petitioned by at least 10% of the undergraduate student body. In order to be ratified, a referendum must then win a majority of the student vote during elections and be approved by the President of the College and the CUNY Board of Trustees.

Currently, there is a referendum on the deadline to turn them in. March 9 is also the deadline for filing any proposed referendum. All referenda must be petitioned by at least 10% of the undergraduate student body. In order to be ratified, a referendum must then win a majority of the student vote during elections and be approved by the President of the College and the CUNY Board of Trustees.

---

Baruch Statesmen Take CUNY Championship!

Baruch Statesmen huddle during Feb. 25th CUNY championship game at College of Staten Island. The Statesmen defeated York College in nailbiter. (Photo/ Julia Ditt)
Baruch Needs To Brush Up on Non-White Faculty Makeup

“Because they don’t wanna come here, they won’t travel to Harlem and NYU,” said one student of the difficulty in hiring very highly qualified minority faculty. “The College here is a lot of accents who do not get along with one another.”

According to Lewis, three people of color who he has hired this year are sufficiently paid.

“You don’t get paid,” said Lewis. One Latino adjunct admitted that she was hired on the basis of the square of the moment when one department failed to fill a position, causing her to be employed in the shorter time.

If there is one person who she will continue to teach after the current contract expires, it is not the professorship but the administration.

The representatives were visibly impressed with the well-organized schedule. “Everything has been really smooth,” said a representative from Albion Laboratories.

The CDCGCS distributed brochure filled with the job descriptions were very helpful. There are still copies available at the fair. Students should be visiting the fair and encourage their friends to do the same.

The Career Development Center (CDC) held an Affirmative Action Fair, 2000, at the Student Center on Monday, March 6.

Students should be visiting the fair and encourage their friends to do the same. The fair is a great opportunity to get involved with what’s going on campus.”

By Mia Small

The current underclassmen of Baruch are not necessary only for his department but for the entire College.

According to Aylman, the SGA has changed the atmosphere but the substantive problems remain unchanged. On the other hand, the forum is focused in gathering the public of faculty and representing the public of the College.

According to the 1999-2000 Affirmative Action Plan, on the 3rd floor Senate held during July 1999 and June 1999, there were no blacks or Native-Americans, two Latinos and two Asians/Pacific Islanders. Since then, there is a need to base their teaching skills, evaluations, materials and support to the Black students.

Continued from front page...
Wannabees Wanted.

To save his planet, an alien must find a woman on earth to have his baby. There’s just one problem.

The Weisman Center for International Business

LATIN AMERICA

IN THE NEW MILLENNIUM

Jorge Mariscal
Goldman, Sachs & Co.

Prof. Ronald Hellman
Bilddner Center for Western Hemisphere Studies, CUNY Graduate School

WHAT PLANET ARE YOU FROM?

Want a make a difference? Wannabe heard? Wanna get involved? Wannabe a student leader!

By Graceline Hall

Business Editor

Baruch College

Student Government Elections

Forms Available:

Suite 1512
360 Park Avenue South
9 am-6 pm

Filling Deadline:

Thurs., March 9 @ 5:00 PM

Candidacy Declaration

Available:

Forms Available:

Filing
9 am
Suit 1512
8 pm

Census Avenue

Diallo Demonstration Draws Bystanders Into Action

The protest over the acquittal of the four officers who shot and killed Amadou Diallo, a Guatemalan immigrant, in his apartment in February was for Amadou Diallo. Shopping, eating and strolling worse before it gets better.

As the unknown woman was being cuffed by one police officer, she screamed and screamed in a high pitched voice that carried throughout the crowd, but did not resist being cuffed.

The arrest of the unknown woman did nothing to calm the crowd.

In the middle of Broadway and started shouting, "When do we want it? Now!" The response was "Justice! No Peace."

"Justice! No Peace."

"When you have it all disorganized like this, people do stupid things," said Rafael Muniz, a black man.

The arrest of the unknown woman did nothing to calm the...
JOSE CHICAS: Profile of an Independent Filmmaker

By Vanessa Tabb
Features Editor

Jose Chicas is a self-taught filmmaker who graduated from NYU. and Chicas has only produced a short film called "A Season Of Light" which has not touched the big screen. Chicas attributes his desire to become a filmmaker to "the eyes" which he saw the day of his birth. The special effects that surround this movie only add to the confusion that now he feels can not be identified.

Er... Have We Met Before? Freshman Forgetfulness Syndrome

By Sanaa Mabry
Contributing Writer

Once upon a time. Elie the goddess of dreams, was in love with a man named Dionysus, King of Tragedy. The passionate and devoted couple lived in a world where dreams were the reality and identity was only a mask. But one day, Dionysus was forced to leave Elie for the god of love, Eros. Elie was heartbroken and decided to travel to the world of the living to find her love again. She met a young man who shared her same fate and together they embarked on a journey to find the lost love of their lives.

Baruchians: Unclean Bathrooms

Students Fault, Too

"It's not only the school's fault... sometimes students don't even flush the toilets."

"It's not only the school's fault... sometimes students don't even flush the toilets."

"It's not only the school's fault... sometimes students don't even flush the toilets."

Space Savers Look For New Lease

The 168th St. and 360 Park Avenue facility was leased by a nonprofit. The lease is up with a 90-day cancellation period. The space will be occupied by the Baruch campus by June 30, 2001.

Baruch Center

Baruch Center is located in the heart of Manhattan. It is a non-profit organization that provides health care to the uninsured and underinsured. Baruch Center offers a variety of services, including primary care, mental health, and dental care.

 dctory Notes

Continued from page 1

Embraceably and eagerly, you pull yourself together to wash hands and to lose your UGH! What a day.

For many Baruch students such a situation is a common occurrence. Baruch, renowned students, is new. In its years for its history overall and what seems the amount of the world's weight, counted on the number of people turning into the school, the new floor women's bathroom is just out.

"When are the paper towels, soap?"

This bathroom problem is not exclusively a women's issue. A freshman, known as "Ali Dog", says that "the men's bathroom is just the same.

"None of the bathrooms have paper towels and they're dirty!"

More of the students agree that the major problem of the bathrooms is the insufficient maintenance. Other students feel that it is their personal responsibility to keep the facilities clean.

"It's not only the school's fault... but sometimes students don't even flush the toilets."

"It's not only the school's fault... but sometimes students don't even flush the toilets."

"It's not only the school's fault... but sometimes students don't even flush the toilets."

Staff Auditor

A major NYC nonprofit business corporation seeks a motivated professional to perform operational and financial audits. Successful candidate must be detail-oriented and have a minimum of 12 years of auditing experience.

Excellent communication, interpersonal and analytical skills required. A CPA or CIA & knowledge of Fundraising/MBI applications is required. A college degree is required. A college degree is required.

Please send some & resumes to:

Space Savers
Dept. SA, PO Box 1723, New York, NY 10001. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. EEO.
TICKER FEATURES MARCH 6, 2000

Club Spotlight

Membership
The membership of our chapter is comprised of African members of Baruch College. While many of our members are students of Accounting and Finance, others are from different backgrounds. Our primary goal is to provide networking opportunities to our members.

Organization
The Chapter's activities include preparing Executive Board meetings, planning events, and engaging in community service. The primary aim of our chapter is to foster a sense of community among our members.

Activities
Meetings are held on Wednesdays from 1-2:30 pm, where we discuss topics related to our field of study. Our meetings are open to all members and are conducted by professionals from around the New York Metropolitan area. Guest speakers are encouraged.

Networking with Top Companies
In addition to our meetings, we organize networking events with top companies in the industry. These events provide opportunities for our members to network and gain valuable professional experience.

---

LearningExpress

TICKER FEATURES MARCH 6, 2000 8

While TIAA-CREF invests for the long term, it's nice to see performance like this today.

TIAA-CREF delivers impressive results like these by combining two disciplined investment strategies. In our equity accounts, for example, we combine active management with enhanced indexing. With two strategies, we have two ways to seek out performance opportunities — helping to make your investments work twice as hard.

Expense Ratio

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>CREF Global Equities Acct</th>
<th>36.05%</th>
<th>22.02%</th>
<th>18.75%</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Total Annual Expenses</td>
<td>0.37%</td>
<td>0.40%</td>
<td>0.45%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>After-Tax Fees</td>
<td>1.97%</td>
<td>1.94%</td>
<td>1.93%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Combine this with our low expenses and you’ll see how TIAA-CREF stands apart from the competition.

With over $250 billion in assets, we’re the world’s largest retirement company and the leading choice on Wall Street for the past 35 years.

---

Club Spotlight

The National Association of Black Accountants, Eastern Region

Please join us at our next meetings on Mondays during club hours in Rm. 108 of the 360 PAS.

---

LearningExpress

You’re in a crunch.

You’re taking the CUNY Skills Assessment Test Soon.

YOU NEED HELP NOW!!!

Go To www.LearnX.com

And take a Practice Test Online!

Improve your test scores by 15% or more!

LearningExpress developed this online practice exam with the help of CUNY Math and English Instructors.

Student’s note: The在同一平台上的先前版本改进了它的性能，因为它没有提供足够的问题来评估CUNY Skills Assessment Test。

This exclusive online test is only $9.95!

If you’d prefer to work from a book, LearningExpress also offers the only complete preparation book for the CUNY Skills Assessment Test.

For more info, go to www.LearnX.com, and get a 20% discount when you order a book online.

Call Toll Free: 1-888-351-1085

Achieve Your Personal Best With LearningExpress!
The Crime in Our Minds

The decision to acquit the four officers charged in the death of Amadou Diallo reveals much about this country’s mentality and how far we still need to go. From Reseda to Wheeler Avenue, from New York City to the world, reactions to the verdict show just how polarized along racial lines we are as a nation.

But that is not to say that positively cannot come from this case. Even though polarization was acute and feared, experienced, outrage was expressed by people of all races. Amadou’s death does not have to be in vain. Peter Youndt, the City Council speaker is on the right track when he said that we should funnel our outrage to the local police department. For too long we have known that when an entire race of people desperately live in fear of those to entrust them to, their reaction, no graphic, no injustice can justify our system.

What is more, the jurors can’t really be blamed for their decision, since it was based on the law (albeit a charge of less than 12 months is equivalent to murder). The face remains, as incisive as it may be, it is now impossible to convulse on an office police officer of the worst.

Then take into account that Amadou was Black, an immigrant and one yourself, that the outcome really was inevitable. For example, why is it that almost no media attention is paid to a report that at least 8 billion of Ethiopians are on the verge of starvation this year alone, reading that of the 1984-85 epidemic “We are the World”? Yet, a few hours of intense debate on every broadcast. We are, in a sense, desensitized to the idea of battling for our racial hearts.

If anything, Youndt’s suggestions do more good. For his call for city residency requirements seems obvious. For too many years our police officers live outside of this city and come here with a chip on their shoulder. That is not to say that all police officers from Long Island are bad. We realize that police work is not an easy job, and people should understand that officers are often frustrated. The NYPD sees the worst this city has to offer on a day-to-day basis, and surely that must weigh on their account for ‘the real crime. (Not to discount the life of Amadou Diallo or the blood that he shed; every life is precious.)

Color in between see a white man with a wallet as a white man with a wallet, but a black man with a wallet is

Officers exhort their jobs at the acquittal, then feel obliged to throw in an, “Oh by the way, that’s not to say that we

Would Amadou Diallo be alive if they sent their children to the same schools, worshiped in the same churches and shopped in the same grocery stores as people who look like Amadou Diallo?

If I’m short, should I have more short professors? I should! If I’m fat, should I have more fat professors? I should! If I’m black, should I have more black professors? I should! If I’m Asian, should I have more Asian professors? I should! I’d like to think that even with the wisdom of age, the world is somewhat more honest, but I doubt it.

Incredibly, if I’m a Black student at Baruch, do I have a Black Professor? I do if I specifi-

I’m tired of being aware of the insult, but I’m not tired of being aware of the injustice.

The real crime in this case; embedded sometimes from both, and intensified every time we are made to compare blacks to whites in the same sentence. We are hearing every day about a group of people over a racist, sexist or religious group. We are just one day away from supporting the four police officers. I am, first, obliged to thank my-related, in the end, the way that’s not to say that we

The Ticker is published weekly, fifteen times a year. Students, faculty, alumni, and supporters are invited to contribute. All work except printing is done by Baruch undergraduates. All typed and signed contributions are accepted. Unsigned letters will not be published. However, a turnaround time of seven days is required before the deadline.

Dear Editor,

I am offended by your editorial (Feil, 16, 2000). How can you defend Mr. McCain’s use of the word “gook” to refer to the Vietnamese guards in the Hanoi Hilton? Mr. McCain is using this as a justification for his past behavior and as an argument against those who are currently criticizing him. It is a slanderous and inflammatory term.

The word “gook” was originally used as a derogatory term by American soldiers to describe Vietnamese soldiers. It was later adopted by Mr. McCain and other American soldiers as a way to degrade and belittle the Vietnamese. This is a clear example of how language can be used to manipulate and justify acts of violence.

I urge you to reconsider your use of this term and to promote a more respectful and inclusive language in your publication.

Sincerely,

Sophia Tiwathia
Advertising Assistant

TICKER OP-EDS MARCH 6, 2000

Baruch Child Care Gets Praise

Hi,

I recently read an article in your newspaper about the Baruch Child Care Center. I think it is a great idea to offer child care for evening students. This is a benefit that many people would find to be very helpful. I am currently a junior at Baruch College and I was very happy to see that there are now child care services for students who are night owls. I remember when I was attending classes a few years ago and it was a real challenge to find child care. I would say that I was very happy to see that there is now a service to help with this issue.

Sincerely,

Sandra Richards

Baruch College

Dear Editor,

I am writing to suggest a change in the cover story of the last issue’s Ticker. The article, “The Crime in Our Minds” was interesting and informative, but I feel that it could have been improved by including a more comprehensive analysis of the racial issues involved. The article focused too much on the individual officers and their actions, and not enough on the broader context in which the crime occurred.

Specifically, I would like to have seen more discussion of the role of systemic racism in policing, and how it affects the lives of people of color. I also think that more could have been said about the impact of police brutality on communities of color, and the need for accountability and justice.

In addition, I think that the article could have benefited from a more critical examination of the role of media and public opinion in shaping perceptions of the case. Media coverage often focuses on individualized accounts of police conduct, and this can have serious consequences for public opinion and trust in the justice system.

I hope that the Ticker will consider these suggestions for future articles. I believe that a more nuanced and critical approach to covering such important issues is necessary in order to foster meaningful dialogue and progress towards systemic change.

Sincerely,

Mary Smith

Adj. Lecturer

English Department

Baruch College
Voices of the Proletariat: Black History Month and Amadou Diallo

By Nicole Lloyd

In the world of black history, one of the many things that are celebrated is the Black History Month. This is a time when people come together to remember and honor the achievements of African Americans. At the same time, this is a time to celebrate the contributions of black people and to remember the struggles they have faced. It is also a time to recognize the accomplishments of black people and to celebrate their contributions. A black man named Amadou Diallo was killed in New York City on Feb. 6, 1999, in what is now known as the Brinks robbery. He was shot by a police officer after an attempted robbery. The police officer was convicted of manslaughter and was later acquitted on the grounds of self-defense. The death of Amadou Diallo was a major turning point in the fight for police accountability and transparency.

The Black Lives Matter movement began in the United States in 2013. The movement was named after the death of Trayvon Martin, a black teenager who was shot by a white man while he was walking in a neighborhood. The shooting sparked protests across the country, and the Black Lives Matter movement was born. The movement is focused on ending police violence and promoting social justice.

Swing for the Trees in Celebration of Tu b'Shvat

By Asacono Rabinowitz

On Thursday, a group of students in the Biology Club held a special event to celebrate Tu b’Shvat. The event was called “Swing for the Trees.” It was held on the main campus of the university. The event was sponsored by the Biology Club and was open to all students.

The event was held on theoo sky, on the main campus of the university. The event was sponsored by the Biology Club and was open to all students.

How High Can This Stock Fly?

By Richard Mermel

Comments

Juniper Networks Inc (JNPR) is a leading provider of Internet infrastructure solutions. The company’s products are designed to help service providers, businesses, government agencies, and other organizations build, manage, and secure networks. Juniper’s market capitalization is $430 billion while its market capitalization is $35 billion.

How Can This Stock Fly?

As of writing date, Juniper Networks Inc (JNPR) is trading at $80. This is a great opportunity for investors to take advantage of the potential growth of this company. The company is in the process of expanding its market share and is expected to continue to grow in the future.

Juniper is a leader in the networking and communications industry. The company’s products include routers, switches, and software that help to build and manage networks. Juniper’s products are designed to be scalable and flexible, which makes them ideal for businesses of all sizes.

The company has a strong track record of innovation and has been a leader in the development of new networking technologies. Juniper has also been able to maintain a strong focus on customer service and support, which has helped to build a loyal customer base.

Investors are urged to do their own research before investing in any company. It is important to consider the company’s financial health, management team, and competitive landscape before making any investment decisions. Additionally, it is important to diversify one’s investment portfolio to reduce risk.

The idea is to diversify the money in different investments, thus decreasing the risk of loss.
Top Marketing Companies Seek Baruch's Best

To Come to the Conference Center March 10

By Bryan Fleck

Top Marketing Companies are seeking Baruch's best for the conference center with the March 10 event. The companies are focused on recruiting students for jobs and internships, looking for candidates with strong academic performance and a passion for marketing.

Companies such as PricewaterhouseCoopers, Ernst & Young, and Deloitte have expressed interest in Baruch students. The marketing dump will be held at the Baruch College Conference Center.

Baruch's Professor Emeritus Abraham Briloff recently spoke out about accounting, including some of his own trials and tribulations. Briloff held the position of Baruch's Professor Emeritus in the Department of Accounting.

"There will be a number of people going to jail," Briloff said, addressing the issue of accounting fraud and the importance of integrity in the profession. "The question is not whether they will do it, but whether they will get caught." Briloff emphasized the need for greater accountability and transparency in the accounting world.

"I tell you that the accounting profession should be rid of all the people that are running it," Briloff continued. "This is the time to take action and make sure that the accounting profession is held accountable for its actions."
March 6, 2000

BARUCH WINS CUNY CHAMPIONSHIP!

First Time That Baruch Has Won The Tourney

By Kenyatta Pious
Sports Editor

And there I was after the biggest win in Baruch history - the first CUNY Tournament win and the first CUNY title in the history of the basketball program. It was a dream come true for all Baruch fans who have been waiting for this moment.

The game was against York and it was all downhill from there. Baruch dominated the game from start to finish, winning 66-53.

Weary fans piled out of the Staten Island Coliseum, the site of the CUNY Tournament final, as the Statesmen celebrated after the game.

The team was led by senior forward Tyrone Cohen, who scored a career-high 28 points and grabbed 11 rebounds. Fellow seniors Michael Verzosa and Dave Thomas also played key roles in the victory.

As the second half resumed, Mitchell set the tempo, scoring a couple of quick baskets and playing defense with elated.

For Baruch, the win meant so much more than just a championship. It was a validation of years of hard work and dedication, and a celebration of the team's unbreakable bond.

The Statesmen had lost the last two games to York, but they refused to let history repeat itself. They played with a sense of urgency and determination, and it paid off.

And so, after years of waiting and hoping, Baruch finally had its day. The Statesmen had earned their place in the history books, and the fans could hardly contain their joy.

The victory wasn't just a win for Baruch basketball; it was a win for the entire Baruch community. It was a moment to remember, a moment to cherish.

And so, as the fans cheered and the players hugged, the bar was raised to new heights. The Statesmen had won the Tourney, and the world had heard their name.